

STORM CAUSED DAMAGE IN CITY AND SUBURBS

Bridges Washed and Weakened In Chester and Panhandle Railroad Covered With Dirt.

THE STREET CAR AND RAILROAD LINES SUFFER

Thousands of dollars worth of damage was wrought by the flood of last night and this morning. Streams overflowed, cellars were flooded, retaining walls caved in and street paving was irreparably damaged. Railroad traffic for the most part is at a standstill and it will be weeks before the debris is cleared away and repairs made.

The town of Chester suffered perhaps more than any other district in the vicinity, and not even the best posted men in the city are attempting to place an estimate upon the amount necessary to make needed repairs. The municipality itself is the greatest sufferer, and it is likely many proposed improvements will be put off in order that the havoc wrought by the floods may be repaired.

The rain storm on the Southside resembled a cloudburst. From 10 o'clock until midnight the rain fell in torrents. Carolina avenue was completely under water at many points, and the Rock Springs street railway was compelled to suspend long before the regular hour on account of water on the tracks.

THE WATER SWEEP

The last of the more than 1,500 people who witnessed the basket ball game at Rock Springs last night had scarcely been landed on this side of the river when the storm broke forth in all its fury. The stream widens when it leaves the park

WHAT THE NEW BRIDGE MEANS FOR THIS CITY

Besides the Cost of Building It Means a New Town and a Long Interurban Trolley Line.

President Horwell and Moon, Barlow, Croxall and Cannon, of the city council, met last evening at the office of City Solicitor George E. Davidson, with Messrs. J. G. Lee and W. E. Wells, of the Newell Bridge company and their attorney, for the purpose of deciding what action should be taken toward granting the bridge company the right to occupy a 60-foot lot in the West End to be used as an approach to the bridge. With but one dissenting vote, Cannon objecting, an agreement was reached to dedicate the lot as a street and it was the sentiment of the councilmen to grant the company a franchise over the street when application is made for a right of way up to the center of the city.

MILO CAIN IS WANTED AGAIN

Two Women Accuse Him of Making a Vicious Assault on Them.

SALOON MAN UNDER ARREST

Milo ("Crip") Cain is a fugitive from justice. There is nothing sensational to the mere announcement. He always is if he does not happen to be behind the prison bars. He was just released yesterday morning after living on the city for a couple of weeks and now he is wanted on the same charge that gave him the spell of free boarding. Hardly had he been released from jail until he found his way to the home of Mrs. Stahl and Mrs. Sheets, Green lane, and threatened their lives.

It will be recalled that the last time he was arrested it was on a charge of trying to kill the two women. He at one time boarded with Mrs. Sheets and because she turned him away when his actions became unbearable and after he had beaten her terribly a few times he has viciously assaulted her upon several occasions and each time has threatened to kill both the women if they had him arrested. The women are in constant terror when he is out of jail and last evening they reported that he had treated them even more cruelly than before. Officers were detailed to locate him, but could not. If he is apprehended the mayor will give him a workhouse sentence.

Officers Bryan and Woods were summoned to the Connelly saloon, West Market street, early last evening by the wife of the proprietor, who alleged that her husband had assaulted her. Connelly was arrested and released on his own recognizance until this morning when he appeared before the mayor and asked for a continuance of his hearing until next Tuesday. The request was granted.

Floyd McDole and J. Myler were arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Betteridge on a charge of train jumping. McDole pleaded guilty and was fined $1 and costs, while Myler was released.

Joe Brighthouse got drunk again yesterday and landed in the city jail, being arrested by Officer McDermott.

Officer Dawson took Tom Hineman to the county jail today to answer to a charge of petit larceny.

Dr. Pratt at Home—Rev. Dr. M. B. Pratt returned from his vacation, restored to health, and is ready to resume his pastoral duties. He finds Mrs. Pratt much improved and able to sit up.

The Dead.
FRANK ROGERSON, flagman, aged 25, single, home at Boston, Pa.

The Injured.
FREDERICK MABEE, brakeman, Wellsville; bruised about body.

HARRY WILLIAMS, conductor; legs hurt, slightly injured about back.

Freight train 364 was being run in two light sections. On account of the slow orders between Yellow Creek and bridge No. 56 the speed of trains is reduced to four miles an hour. The first section was running under orders and the second section was running much faster. Because of a dense fog last night the men in charge of the second section could not see the train ahead of them and their engine crashed into the rear of the first section on a curve. The men in the caboose of the first train saw the second section coming and jumped from their car.

Flagman Rogerson is said to have been standing on the rear platform of the caboose and with the others he jumped. After he struck the ground the engine of the second section struck the caboose and overturned it upon Rogerson.

His legs were broken at the ankle and a hole made through his spinal column. When his body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Haugh & Son the face was black, but this look has left. Williams and Mabee were brought to Wellsville and placed under the care of company physicians. Their injuries are not serious.

The first section of train 346 was in charge of Engineer McGarry and Conductor Harry Williams. The second section was in charge of Conductor W. D. Murray and Engineer H. G. George.

Flagman Rogerson has been a resident of Wellsville for three years. He made his home with Mrs. John Moore, a widow, at Eighteenth and Main streets. Nothing was found among his effects that would lead to the identity of his relatives. His associates on the railroad gave him an excellent reputation, while those with whom he roomed praise his character highly. The body was taken to the Moore home this morning. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, for if no word is received from relatives he will probably be buried in Spring Hill cemetery.

The wreck itself was a small affair. The tracks were cleared within an hour.

St. Petersburg, April 1.—(Special.)—The following semi-official dispatch

BOARDS AT WORK UPON ESTIMATES

Safety Department Wants More Police and also North Side Fire Station Equipment.

HEALTH BOARD'S NEEDS

In compliance with the notification of City Auditor Willis Davidson, the several boards of the city are hard at work preparing estimates of the amount of money necessary to run their respective departments during the year 1905. The board of public safety and the board of health met last evening for that purpose and while the latter readily placed an estimate the former will await further investigation before submitting its requisition.

Before taking up the question of estimates, the board of public safety passed upon a number of bills and then an earnest discussion was started. The board will ask for a much larger appropriation for 1905 than it has had during the present year. It has decided to implore council to add two policemen to the force and wants sufficient money to open the Northside fire station. It is thought that both requests will be sanctioned by the mayor and auditor, into whose hands the estimates fall. That the city needs more policemen, no one will dispute. A force of 20 roundsmen would hardly be sufficient to properly patrol the city and though two more will better the conditions but little, the employing of them will be a step in a cause favored by the citizens generally.

The fire station on the Northside has been completed for months and has been idle ever since. The people living in that vicinity want protection and the board of public safety desires to give it to them. Money is needed to equip the station and there will certainly be no objection to appropriating it.

The board of health decided that $2,000 would be ample to run that department. No extraordinary expense is anticipated by the board and the requisition is about the same as has been used in the past. Before adjourning the board ordered signs to be posted at the following locations, where people have been dumping rubbish: Second and Jefferson streets, Seventh and Monroe streets; Chestnut and Pleasant streets, and at the foot of Franklin street. The signs will bear a warning against using the spots for dumping purposes, and Sanitary Officer Burgess will see that the order is obeyed.

fence, and from there to the fill made for the street railway the banks were overflowed and all made ground was washed away.

On the north side of the park along Carolina avenue, the park management went to a great expense to sod the bank about one year ago, and at no less than eight places the water got under the sod and great holes were made in the bank. Workmen had just completed tamping the sod in order that it might be given a good start during the spring, and the loss to the park owners will be great.

At Dunn street the water came down the hill in such volumes that it swept everything before it. Curbing was washed out, paving damaged and every cellar in the neighborhood was flooded. Everything in the path of the flood was washed down onto Carolina avenue, and that thoroughfare was well nigh impassable by midnight. The celebrated mud hole back of the new Presbyterian church, known as Peters' lake, overflowed its banks and the water came down through the lots behind Dunn and Fifth streets carrying everything before it.

THE DESTRUCTION

IS COMPLETE
From Fifth street to the bridge over Middle run the destruction is complete. The water was still flowing along Carolina avenues this morning, and track men on the Rock Springs line were compelled to build dams along the track before cars could be run. Supt. Tom Reed and his able corps of assistants worked with a will, and but few trips were missed.

The river division of the road between Wellsville and Bellaire is in excellent condition, with little danger of travel being stopped on this part of the road by floods.

Between Wellsville and Beaver, landslides caused much trouble, delay of trains and transfer of passengers, express and mails. There were a number of washouts and several hundred men were at work all day clearing the tracks. It is the desire of the officials of the road to have this division open by 6 o'clock this evening. The largest slide is at Merrill, and enough earth was washed on the tracks to fill 25 cars. Several other slips have occurred along this part of the road, but they are of small moment.

Telegraph wires were also down along the Cleveland & Pittsburgh road. Cleveland was reached by way of Pittsburgh about noon, while communication with towns on the main line between Wellsville and Alliance was an impossibility. Linemen are at work.

PROFESSOR'S WEDDING INDEFINITELY POSTPONED

Father and Big Brothers of the Bride Frustrate Rogers College President's Plans.

AN INTERRUPTION AT THE ELEVENTH HOUR

Lisbon, April 1.—(Special.)—Reliable information from Rogers this morning states that Prof. M. J. Smalley, president of Lincoln college, was a little premature in announcing his marriage, as he did in notices sent out for publication today. The wedding was prevented yesterday by the father and two brothers of his prospective bride.

Justice H. D. Cope, who was to have performed the ceremony, came into probate court early in the week and secured a marriage license for Manuel John Smalley, aged 45, and Miss Georgiana Raley, aged 20. Miss Raley, who is a highly respected school teacher, a daughter of Thomas Raley and belongs to one of the most respected families of the vicinity. For some time she has been employed as a teacher in the Rogers college.

Prof. Smalley came to Rogers from Butler, Pa., and as the people heard stories of his past he seems to have fallen into some disfavor. He is said to have a divorced wife and two children living. It is stated he got a divorce from her somewhere in the east and later she got a divorce from him in the Allegheny county courts, it is said.

Prof. Smalley carried on his courtship of Miss Raley very quietly, as nothing was known of the engagement until nearly the date fixed for the marriage. When the professor drove to the Raley home yesterday to take the lady to the office of Justice Cope for the ceremony, he was met at the gate by the irate father and two sturdy sons, who refused him admittance. A war of words and numerous threats ensued and continued two or three hours. At length one of the young men forced his sister to return to the house, carrying her part of the way, and the discomfiture of the professor was complete. He had intended to leave Rogers with his bride on the afternoon train for a wedding trip.

The affair caused a big sensation and much feeling in Rogers where sympathy is wholly with the Raley family. Feeling against Justice Cope for securing the license is also reported strong. There is talk of deposing Smalley from his position as superintendent of one of the Rogers Sunday schools.

In common pleas court here about a year ago Mary J. Burke secured a judgment against Smalley for $405 on a note.

WHAT THE NEW BRIDGE MEANS FOR THIS CITY

Besides the Cost of Building It Means a New Town and a Long Interurban Trolley Tine.

President Horwell and Moon, Barlow, Croxall and Cannon, of the city council, met last evening at the office of City Solicitor George E. Davidson, with Messrs. J. G. Lee and W. E. Wells, of the Newell Bridge company and their attorney, for the purpose of deciding what action should be taken toward granting the bridge company the right to occupy a 60-foot lot in the West End to be used as an approach to the bridge. With but one dissenting vote, Cannon objecting, an agreement was reached to dedicate the lot as a street and it was the sentiment of the councilmen to grant the company a franchise over the street when application is made for a right of way up to the center of the city.

Mr. Cannon avowed that he would never give the bridge company or any other concern an inch of city property unless it was well paid for. He said he had been censured in the past for giving away property of the city and that he did not propose to be trapped again. He thought the bridge company well able to pay something for a right of way and for his part will insist that it does. The argument offered by Mr. Cannon fell with a thud when the remaining members of council expressed themselves and an explanation was made by Messrs. Lee and Wells.

Messrs. Croxall, Moon and Barlow took a common sense view of the situation. They realize that the bridge will directly benefit every resident of this city. They were elected to serve the people, do what they could for the interests of the people and will not be convinced that the erection of the bridge to connect East Liverpool with partially another country will not be worth equally as much to the city as to the company.

Mr. Lee stated that any protests against the councilmen granting the concessions asked for could come from none but people who are not progressive. He explained that the company will spend $250,000 in the erection of the bridge and that some day the street car line which will enter the city will connect it with Wellsburg and Wheeling. The bridge, he stated, would only be the connecting link of a mammoth business project and he knew the great masses of people would favor any action on the part of the council to help such a proposition along.

The lot in question at the present time is worthless to the city and even if it has a valuation the price of it will be enhanced greatly by the building of the bridge. Mr. Moon argued that by giving away the one street, which will not be done, the company not asking for it, would make the value of the other five lots owned by the city worth several times as much as at present. President Horwell then advised that the council dedicate the lot as a street. This was finally agreed upon and the solicitor was instructed to draft the necessary papers for that.

AGED MAN THE VICTIM OF SINGULAR DELUSIONS

Lisbon, April 1.—(Special.)—Although a warrant has been issued to the sheriff for the removal of Randall Mills, an aged man of East Liverpool, to the Massillon asylum, Judge Martin has ordered a stay of proceedings, owing to the feeble condition of Mr. Mills, aged 77.

Mr. Mills was at one time a traveling herb doctor and made a trip across the continent, where he stayed several years while his wife remained in East Liverpool. He returned about two years ago and has been making his home with a son in the east end of the city, his wife having gone to Pittsburgh. His insanity is ascribed to old age. It is said he has several times tried to carry out threats of suicide, but more recently, under the delusion that his family were trying to poison him, has taken only barely enough food to keep him alive. On his visit to East Liverpool to hold the lunacy inquest, Judge Martin prevailed on the old man to eat a good square meal.

FAVORS SHOP LOCALS.

At the banquet tendered the members of the N. B. of O. P. by the Sebring locals on last Thursday night, National Secretary Minge, in his remarks, submitted figures and reasons why the shop local should be adopted by the National Brotherhood. Secretary Minge has always been a staunch supporter of the shop or mixed local and since his installation as secretary of the organization he has given the matter much thought and attention. He said:

"In drawing comparisons between the shop or mixed local, and the branch or trade local, I used an equal number of each consisting of 17 trade locals and 17 mixed locals and find that the 17 trade locals have a combined kiln capacity of 220 kilns and of the 17 mixed locals the kiln capacity is 132 kilns. I also find that the mixed local has turned in 34 per cent more of the one per cent than the trade local, according to the kiln capacities.

As to membership, the mixed locals have an average of 57 per cent in their favor above that of the trade local. Furthermore, of the 17 trade locals in East Liverpool, I will say that at the present time there is but one of them that has shop committeemen and that is the presses' local union No. 4. Of the duties of a shop committee and the service that can be rendered the organization is well known to the majority of you and the neglect of all local unions to appoint and instruct the shop committee in those duties concerning their craft is one that is to be sadly lamented upon.

"The shop committee should be appointed by the president of the local union and should consist of two or more members, as the union may designate, in good standing, and it should be their duty to see that the members conduct themselves in a proper manner toward each other in the shop. They should also see that the members comply with the rules and regulations of the order. It is their duty to receive all reports which may be made to them by members in relation to any one not receiving the price for ware that he may be making or working under price, or doing anything detrimental to the interest of the union or the trade; report all dereliction in duty on the part of the members which may come under their notice, and such other duties as the union may require. Of the 17 trade locals I also find that only four have shop collectors; this leaves the balance of 13 locals to depend on their members coming to the meeting and paying their dues and one per cent."

GONE TO BARBERTON.

FOUND HIS OLD FATHER IN THE POORHOUSE

Wealthy Youngstown Merchant After Long Search Locates His Aged Parent.

Van Wert, O., April 1.—After a search that had extended over many years and a quest that had taken him into many states, John Kiest, a wealthy business man of Youngstown, located in the Van Wert county poor farm, near this city, his father, whom he had not seen in the past quarter of a century.

The meeting of father and son was pathetic in the extreme. Bent with age and the tasks of a cobbler to which he had applied himself during his stay in the county poor house, the father, dressed in the regulation clothes of a dependent on civic charity, was loath to believe that the prosperous looking man who came today to claim him as his own was in reality his son. He was dazed for a while, and not until the Youngstown merchant had related some stories of his youth, and hinted at the scenes that none forget, did the parent realize that the man was "his boy." The relationship established.

Kiest made arrangements to have his father dismissed from the institution. He will care for him the remainder of his days. Kiest, Sr., is 79 years old. Once he was a well-to-do farmer in this county. Domestic infelicities arose, and 30 years ago mother and father separated. The son went his way. Supt. Shumaker received a telephonic inquiry from the son, and told him that the father had been in the poor house nine years. Yesterday he came for him. Home news complete in this paper.

FAVORS SHOP LOCALS.

At the banquet tendered the members of the N. B. of O. P. by the Sebring locals on last Thursday night, National Secretary Menge, in his remarks, submitted figures and reasons why the shop local should be adopted by the National Brotherhood. Secretary Menge has always been a staunch supporter of the shop or mixed local and since his installation as secretary of the organization he has given the matter much thought and attention. He said:

"In drawing comparisons between the shop or mixed local, and the branch or trade local, I used an equal number of each consisting of 17 trade locals and 17 mixed locals and find that the 17 trade locals have a combined kiln capacity of 220 kilns and of the 17 mixed locals the kiln capacity is 132 kilns. I also find that the mixed local has turned in 34 per cent more of the one per cent than the trade local, according to the kiln capacities.

As to membership, the mixed locals have an average of 57 per cent in their favor above that of the trade local. Furthermore, of the 17 trade locals in East Liverpool, I will say that at the present time there is but one of them that has shop committeemen and that is the presses' local union No. 4. Of the duties of a shop committee and the service that can be rendered the organization is well known to the majority of you and the neglect of all local unions to appoint and instruct the shop committee in those duties concerning their craft is one that is to be sadly lamented upon.

"The shop committee should be appointed by the president of the local union and should consist of two or more members, as the union may designate, in good standing, and it should be their duty to see that the members conduct themselves in a proper manner toward each other in the shop. They should also see that the members comply with the rules and regulations of the order. It is their duty to receive all reports which may be made to them by members in relation to any one not receiving the price for ware that he may be making or working under price, or doing anything detrimental to the interest of the union or the trade; report all dereliction in duty on the part of the members which may come under their notice, and such other duties as the union may require. Of the 17 trade locals I also find that only four have shop collectors; this leaves the balance of 13 locals to depend on their members coming to the meeting and paying their dues and one per cent."

Mr. Harsha against the city and ask in their answer that they may partake of all the benefits of the decision on his suit.

The signers were secured by a committee the property owners and when alive signed the number will probably over 300. The committee sent a following circular to the property owners:

"Dear Sir: The answer to the petition is the use of Thomas Harsha, plaintiff, versus the City of East Liverpool, O., defendant, in the matter of the Pennsylvania avenue assessment. The answer containing the signatures is now prepared and ready for your signature in the office of Attorney J. E. Davis.

"It will be necessary for all those who desire to be benefited by the court's decision in the Harsha case to sign the answer that the attorneys have prepared.

"Please attend to the signing of the instrument without delay as the attorneys are desirous of filing the answer as soon as all the signatures to it can be obtained.

"Respectfully,
"THE COMMITTEE."

The answer to the Harsha petition admits all the allegations set forth therein. This petition and the fact that all property owners affected by the assessments would become plaintiffs with him, was exclusively published in the News Review some time ago. The answer containing the signatures

The cake will be chanced off at the meeting of the lodge next Monday night and whoever holds the lucky number will have cake enough to last him until Christmas.

Alex Chaffins Sued.

The East End Hardware company has brought suit for $27 against Alex. Chaffins for a bill of hardware and the case is to be heard this afternoon in the court of Justice McHaffie, at Calcutta. Attorney J. E. Davis represents the plaintiff company and he with a number of witnesses left for Calcutta shortly after noon.

Finger Broken.

While playing marbles yesterday afternoon Charles, the 15-year-old son of Harry Meador, of Railroad street, had the index finger of his right hand broken in a rather peculiar manner. One of his companions in a playful effort to spoil Meador's shot, stepped on the finger, breaking the bone.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

O. P. Walker, of Mechanicstown, is visiting East End friends.

J. B. Mallin, of Mulberry street, is home from a visit to Bellaire.

Thomas Finley is spending a few days at Mechanicstown on a business mission.

Miss Georgia Hyatt, of Pennsylvania avenue, is seriously ill with neuralgia of the heart.

Miss Effa White has taken a position as saleslady at the Kwal department store.

Mrs. Alma Eader and Mrs. Rebecca Altman, of Alliance, are guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Mowen, of Pennsylvania avenue.

The social last night in Larkins' hall, given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Second Christian church, was most enjoyable.

The Sunday school of the Erie street M. E. church will take part in the services Easter Sunday night and will render a literary and musical program.

Mrs. Charles Kwal, of Pittsburg, joined her husband here a few days ago and they have taken the Dr. M. W. Taylor house on the west side of Mulberry street.

Queen Quality

Tasting Pleasure.

There are some pleasures that must be tasted to be understood. You can't imagine them! But once try them and you want them! One such pleasure is the "Queen Quality" Shoe. You detect instantly a certain air of quality. There is nothing commonplace about them. It is unmistakably an aristocratic shoe, made of soft, pliant, extra-high-grade leather. Every part of it is flexible, so that the foot is not cramped; the steps are easy—the tread elastic—the movement graceful. Yet all this means nothing to you unless you try it. We can't describe it; you must test it.

The Newell bridge project meets with the approval of the finance committee of council and will doubtless be approved by council. It is difficult to see what better use could be made of the small strip of land that is asked from the city than to give it to an enterprise that is destined to benefit the city in many ways. The old cemetery has been abandoned for burial purposes and is useless for any purpose so long as it lies idle. The building of the new bridge means the employment of a large number of East Liverpool men and the expenditure of a large sum of money. It means further a new town on the West Virginia side of the river that will make this city the base of its supplies and bring new trade and business here. This is the immediate prospective outcome. Further along will be the extension of the proposed Newell and Congo trolley line up and down the Ohio, giving East Liverpool direct connections with neighboring cities of the valley and sadly needed additional railroad facilities. The bridge project is certainly one to be encouraged, and council will doubtless see it in that light.

Unless indications are misleading, the coming of spring and settled weather will witness great activity in the business and commercial world. From all parts of the country come reports which point to good trade for merchants and manufacturers. It has been a long, hard winter and many enterprises have been at a standstill for some time awaiting the opening of the season. The outlook is full of promise. Even a presidential campaign will not materially affect trade. The country is prosperous. Some of the speculative bubbles have burst, but they caused scarcely a ripple in the business world. The farmers of the country are well-to-do and this fact has a salutary effect in all avenues of trade. Jobbers are now selling fall goods and report the market active. There is no eclipse for the sun of prosperity this year.

employ two more policemen and pay their salaries. It will have no difficulty whatever in getting council to approve its estimates. The public will also approve most cordially the additional police protection which is so much needed. Though the problem presented the city financiers is by no means an easy one, a solution that will result as the people desire ought not to be found impossible.

The East Liverpool Daily Crisis, 29 years of age, is dead of heart failure. As it is impossible to say anything and obey the old injunction to speak only good words of the dead, the News Review refrains from comment.

A probate judge in a southern Ohio county is reported to have gone insane, and the question who shall pass upon his case and commit him to an asylum raises a decidedly interesting and rather embarrassing law point.

Enough arguments in favor of improved country roads to last a lifetime can be found by any man who attempts to go into the country a couple of miles in a buggy.

Admiral Schley says it is a mistake for a navy man to enter politics. Admiral Dewey will doubtless endorse the sentiment most heartily.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Bridget Loretta Mulheran.
Salineville, April 1.—(Special.)—At the home of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Keating, Mrs. Bridget Mulheran, wife of Thomas Mulheran, passed away yesterday morning, after an illness extending over a period of 11 months, from tubercular trouble. Mrs. Mulheran was born in Salineville 24 years ago last February and had lived here all her life except one year in Pittsburg. She was graduated from the Salineville public schools in 1894 after which she was a teacher in the primary grades for several years and left the corps with an enviable record as an instructor. She married T. J. Mulheran in August, 1901, in Indianapolis. She joined her husband the next spring in Pittsburg, where she resided until last year. One daughter was born to them, and died after they removed to Salineville last summer. Since the death of the little child Mrs. Mulheran has been growing weaker. She had been confined to her bed since last Thanksgiving. She was a devoted member of the Catholic church and before her marriage was the organist of the congregation. She was a musician of considerable talent. She leaves her husband, mother and three brothers. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at St. Patrick's church; interment in St. Patrick's cemetery.

William T. Martin.

A telegram was received in this city today to the effect that William T. Martin, who was taken to Las Vegas, N. M., a few days ago for the benefit of his health, had died there this morning. The news was received here with profound regret. Mr. Martin was one of the best known young men in the city, having been prominent in political, secret society and social circles. The family have the sympathy of a large number of friends and acquaintances. He was 28 years old and is survived by a wife and one son.

"Billy" Martin, as he was familiarly known, had been a sufferer from lung trouble for a long time. The disease had given him little trouble until a few weeks ago, when he was compelled to remain in his room. It was thought then that he ought to go to some climate more suited to an invalid but the trip was postponed until last week. It was feared the step was taken too late, and such has proven to be the case. He was accompanied to New Mexico by William Humble, who will start with the remains for East Liverpool at once. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but it will probably be held on Monday from the late home on Sixth street. The Fraternal Order of Eagles will have charge of the funeral.

John A. Hawkins.

Lisbon, April 1.—(Special.)—John A. Hawkins, who belonged to one of the pioneer families, died at 10 o'clock last night, at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Calhoun, with whom he had been making his home in this city. Although Mr. Hawkins had been ill with stomach trouble for about three months, his death was unexpected. He was talking with members of the family, who were at his bedside, when he was suddenly seized with rheumatism of the heart and died in a few minutes.

Mr. Hawkins was born on what is known as the Scovill farm in Elkrun township, 84 years ago, and continued to live in that township until he moved to Lisbon 22 years ago. He was married about 60 years ago to Mira Kemble, of Elkton, who has been dead several years. He is survived by two daughters and four sons as follows: Mrs. J. N. Calhoun, of Lisbon; Mrs. Gideon Newhouse, of Salem; Leonidas, of Salem; Kemble, of Elkton; and Gayle and Marcella, of Lincoln, Neb. The funeral arrangements have not been set.

Howard Peterson.

Salineville, April 1.—(Special.)—Howard Peterson, the nine-year-old son of G. S. Peterson and wife, died at the home of his parents south of town, yesterday morning, of inflammation of the lungs.

tory rheumatism. The little boy was not feeling well Wednesday, but he took his medicine Wednesday night, upon the solicitation of his father and went to his night's rest feeling fairly well. He arose in the morning and spoke about the springtime, and about making gardens, in his childish way. His father left home for work feeling that his son was improved and when he received word about 9 o'clock to hasten home he was much surprised. Before he reached the home his son had passed away.

George Hutchinson.

George Hutchinson, who died Wednesday at Kingston, O., is survived by a wife, five sisters, Mrs. John S. Dickson, Mrs. Margaret Farmer, Mrs. Mary McCullough, of East Liverpool; Mrs. William Zook, Wellsville; Mrs. Lake, Georgetown, Pa., and his father, who also lives at Georgetown. Mr. Hutchinson was married twice and had three children by the first union. The funeral was conducted at Kingston this afternoon and was attended by many from this city.

The Newell bridge project meets with the approval of the finance committee of council and will doubtless be approved by council. It is difficult to see what better use could be made of the small strip of land that is asked from the city than to give it to an enterprise that is destined to benefit the city in many ways. The old cemetery has been abandoned for burial purposes and is useless for any purpose so long as it lies idle. The building of the new bridge means the employment of a large number of East Liverpool men and the expenditure of a large sum of money. It means further a new town on the West Virginia side of the river that will make this city the base of its supplies and bring new trade and business here. This is the immediate prospective outcome. Further along will be the extension of the proposed Newell and Congo trolley line up and down the Ohio, giving East Liverpool direct connections with neighboring cities of the valley and sadly needed additional railroad facilities. The bridge project is certainly one to be encouraged, and council will doubtless see it in that light.

Unless indications are misleading, the coming of spring and settled weather will witness great activity in the business and commercial world. From all parts of the country come reports which point to good trade for merchants and manufacturers. It has been a long, hard winter and many enterprises have been at a standstill for some time awaiting the opening of the season. The outlook is full of promise. Even a presidential campaign will not materially affect trade. The country is prosperous. Some of the speculative bubbles have burst, but they caused scarcely a ripple in the business world. The farmers of the country are well-to-do and this fact has a salutary effect in all avenues of trade. Jobbers are now selling fall goods and report the market active. There is no eclipse for the sun of prosperity this year.

employ two more policemen and pay their salaries, it will have no difficulty whatever in getting council to approve its estimates. The public will also approve most cordially the additional police protection which is so much needed. Though the problem presented the city financiers is by no means an easy one, a solution that will result as the people desire ought not to be found impossible.

The East Liverpool Daily Crisis, 29 years of age, is dead of heart failure. As it is impossible to say anything and obey the old injunction to speak only good words of the dead, the News Review refrains from comment.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Bridget Loretta Mulheran.

Salineville, April 1.—(Special).—At the home of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Keating, Mrs. Bridget Mulheran, wife of Thomas Mulheran, passed away yesterday morning, after an illness extending over a period of 11 months, from tubercular trouble. Mrs. Mulheran was born in Salineville 24 years ago last February and had lived here all her life except one year in Pittsburg. She was graduated from the Salineville public schools in 1894 after which she was a teacher in the primary grades for several years and left the corps with an enviable record as an instructor. She married T. J. Mulheran in August, 1901, in Indianapolis. She joined her husband the next spring in Pittsburg, where she resided until last year. One daughter was born to them, and died after they removed to Salineville last summer. Since the death of the little child Mrs. Mulheran has been growing weaker. She had been confined to her bed since last Thanksgiving. She was a devoted member of the Catholic church and before her marriage was the organist of the congregation. She was a musician of considerable talent. She leaves her husband, mother and three brothers. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at St. Patrick's church; interment in St. Patrick's cemetery.

William T. Martin.

A telegram was received in this city today to the effect that William T. Martin, who was taken to Las Vegas, N. M., a few days ago for the benefit of his health, had died there this morning. The news was received here with profound regret. Mr. Martin was one of the best known young men in the city, having been prominent in political, secret society and social circles. The family have the sympathy of a large number of friends and acquaintances. He was 28 years old and is survived by a wife and one son.

"Billy" Martin, as he was familiarly known, had been a sufferer from lung trouble for a long time. The disease had given him little trouble until a few weeks ago, when he was compelled to remain in his room. It was thought then that he ought to go to some climate more suited to an invalid but the trip was postponed until last week. It was feared the step was taken too late, and such has proven to be the case. He was accompanied to New Mexico by William Humble, who will start with the remains for East Liverpool at once. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but it will probably be held on Monday from the late home on Sixth street. The Fraternal Order of Eagles will have charge of the funeral.

John A. Hawkins.

Salineville, April 1.—(Special).—John A. Hawkins, who belonged to one of the pioneer families, died at 10 o'clock last night, at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Calhoun, with whom he had been making his home in this city. Although Mr. Hawkins had been ill with stomach trouble for about three months, his death was unexpected. He was talking with members of the family, who were at his bedside, when he was suddenly seized with rheumatism of the heart and died in a few minutes.

Mr. Hawkins was born on what is known as the Scovil farm in Elkrun township, 84 years ago, and continued to live in that township until he moved to Lisbon 22 years ago. He was married about 60 years ago to Mira Kemble, of Elkton, who has been dead several years. He is survived by two daughters and four sons as follows: Mrs. J. N. Calhoun, of Lisbon; Mrs. Gideon Newhouse, of Salem; Leonidas, of Salem; Kemble, of Elkton, and Gayle and Marcela, of Lincoln, Neb. The funeral arrangements have not been set.

Howard Peterson.

Salineville, April 1.—(Special).—Howard Peterson, the nine-year-old son of G. S. Peterson and wife, died at the home of his parents south of town, yesterday morning, of inflammation.

tory rheumatism. The little boy was not feeling well Wednesday, but he took his medicine Wednesday night, upon the solicitation of his father and went to his night's rest feeling fairly well. He arose in the morning and spoke about the springtime, and about making gardens, in his childish way. His father left home for work feeling that his son was improved and when he received word about 9 o'clock to hasten home he was much surprised. Before he reached the home his son had passed away.

George Hutchinson.

George Hutchinson, who died Wednesday at Kingston, O., is survived by a wife, five sisters, Mrs. John S. Dickinson, Mrs. Margaret Farmer, Mrs. Mary McCullough, of East Liverpool; Mrs. William Zook, Wellsville; Mrs. Lake, Georgetown, Pa., and his father, who also lives at Georgetown. Mr. Hutchinson was married twice and had three children by the first union. The funeral was conducted at Kingston this afternoon and was attended by many from this city.

WELLSVILLE AND VICINITY

FLOODED THE CELLARS IN WEST END DISTRICT

Storm Caused Considerable Damage
And Inconvenience in One Part of the City.

Aten's run was on the rampage again last night. Members of the board of service were told of this fact at their meeting this morning, but as they have but little money to repair any damage the residents of that part of the city must make the best of the affair.

Many cellars between Twelfth and Sixteenth streets, north of Main street, were flooded by the water from the run, the sewers not being large enough to take it all. This was the same condition that prevailed during the last heavy rains. Many cellars on White street were also flooded. The water from McQueen's run did no damage of any consequence to property in the West End, compared with the last flood.

Craig Case Postponed.

The case of William Fowler against Willis Craig that was to be heard in the court of Justice Riley yesterday afternoon has been postponed. Craig is charged with assault and battery committed in East Liverpool. Fowler is in Baltimore attending the funeral of a relative.

WELLSVILLE PLANS TO VISIT LIVERPOOL

Central Committee to Attend the Meeting of the East Liverpool Central Committee Tonight.

It has about been definitely decided that a committee representing the Wellsville Republican committee will visit the East Liverpool Republican central committee at a meeting of the latter which will be held this evening at East Liverpool. Since the nominating convention at Lisbon Saturday last the Wellsville Republicans have been talking this scheme over and last night it was decided to send representative Republicans of Wellsville to the next meeting of the East Liverpool central committee.

Many Republicans of Wellsville heartily favor the plan to form an alliance with the Republicans of East Liverpool, as it is claimed that it will be an advantage of both cities to be so affiliated.

Just how many Wellsville central committeemen will go to this meeting tonight has not been announced, but that the visit will be made there is no question.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE IS TO REORGANIZE

Old Organization Will Hold Last Session Tomorrow Evening, Gives Way to New Members.

The old Republican central committee of Wellsville will hold its last session in the council chamber of the Wellsville city hall tomorrow evening. All bills will be paid and the business of the organization, which has just gone through one of the more bitter political organizations of the season, will end its existence.

The new central committeemen will meet immediately after the old organization completes its session. New officers will be selected and work will commence at once to prepare for the fall campaign. It is said that it has been the custom in the past for the old organization to look after the fall elections, but this will not be the case this year. The new officers will probably be: Chairman, John W. McQueen; vice chairman, William J. Gloss; secretary, Charles R. McGregor, Jr.; treasurer, E. R. Taylor.

To Pay for Improvements.

A note numerously signed was presented to the Silver Banking company today for $500. This money is to be used in paying for the improvements made to the postoffice by the board of service.

Water Trustees' Meeting.

At a meeting of the water works trustees last night a check for $1,858.33 was ordered drawn by City Auditor McGregor for the Sterling Boiler company of Barberton. These boilers are for the new pumping station. The trustees paid bills to the amount of $900 for the month of March and talked about the work being done at the new pumping station. Some checks presented with bids for the completion of the new pumping station were returned.

Two-Fold Inspection.

Supt. G. A. Sellers, of the telegraph department of the Northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west, is now on his annual inspection trip and today is passing over the Cleveland & Pittsburg division. He is with the party which is now making the inspection of the road for insurance purposes. The party is due in Cleveland tomorrow.

New Contracting Firm Begins.

The first work that the new contracting firm, which is composed of Thomas J. Rogers, of Wellsville, and others will do will be for the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company in the vicinity of Steubenville. The company expected to start excavating for improvements there last Monday, but the weather was such that this had to be deferred a week at least. It is now planned to commence their first contract work next Monday.

McGregor Has a System.

All bills which the city of Wellsville owes must be approved by the several boards on or before the first of the month, or they will not be paid until the month following. This system, which was inaugurated by City Auditor McGregor, is conceded to be the best business plan ever adopted by any official of the city. The fifth of every month is set by Auditor McGregor as "pay day" and nothing is paid out on or before or after that date.

Government Official Here.

For the purpose of obtaining the wealth and indebtedness of the city of Wellsville was the object of the visit of Cassius E. Wright, representing the United States census office, to Wellsville. He will complete his work in East Liverpool tonight and will probably be in Wellsville tomorrow. All the data he obtains will be published in book form by the department. He will visit all cities in Ohio having a population of 4,000 or more.

Six persons will be baptized at the morning service at the First Evangelical church, Main street, at the morning service. Rev. Mr. Vandersall will officiate. The morning sermon will be "The Stone Rolled Away." The evening sermon will be "God's Training School." No special musical program will be offered at the services at this church.

Makes Arrest; Walks Three Miles.

Detective Jewell had a hard row to hoe Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Word was received by the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad officials that coal was being stolen from cars near New Kensington. Detective Jewell investigated.

tigated. He arrested three Assyrians and had to walk with them three miles over muddy country roads to the office of Justice Bryan, before a charge could be preferred against them. It is claimed to have been one of the most tedious trips ever made by the officer.

Spring Vacation Closes.

The spring vacation of the Wellsville schools will end this afternoon, and the spring term will open Monday at the usual hour. The scholars have spent a happy week at play, while some have availed themselves of the opportunity to visit friends in other places. The school teachers who have been spending the week at Washington, D. C., are expected home tomorrow or Sunday.

Italians Leaving Wellsville.

Within the past few days about 75 Italians have arrived in the Italian colony in Wellsville, but yesterday afternoon 24 of these left the city, going to Merrill station, where they will work for the railroad company. Some of the new members of the colony came to Wellsville from Steubenville and some from Salineville.

New Manager for Vulcan.

J. H. Chisholm, for some time affiliated with the Hill Realty company, of East Liverpool, has accepted the management of the Vulcan Brick plant, West End, commencing today. He is a well known young man, and is well versed with the brick industry.

Council Will Attend Church.

Wellsville council, Knights of Columbus, will attend the morning service at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Sunday, in a body. The council attends this service annually.

WELLSVILLE IN BRIEF.

Charles Hamilton, traveling passenger agent of the Wabash system, was in Wellsville yesterday on business. It is said he secured ten passengers for a far western point on his lines.

A most desirable auxiliary to either the Vertical or Shannon Systems is the "Y and E" Rapid Roller Letter Copier.

Copies made by this machine have distinct advantages over those produced by the mussy letter-press and the inaccurate carbon copy.

Every correction or alteration in the original paper or letter is accurately reproduced.

Time and effort required are so small that no excuse exists for failing to retain a copy for the files.

This is the ORIGINAL roller process copying machine.

It is made solely by "Y & E."

No successful imitation has yet been produced, nor is there any other machine of this character which can properly do the work of this one.

Copies are made on a continuous roll of paper which winds automatically about a reel. Here they stretch tightly and dry smoothly.

From one to four clear and separate copies may be secured from one good original written in ink, indelible pencil or copying ribbon.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE IS TO REORGANIZE

Old Organization Will Hold Last Session Tomorrow Evening, Gives Way to New Members.

The old Republican central committee of Wellsville will hold its last session in the council chamber of the Wellsville city hall tomorrow evening. All bills will be paid and the business of the organization, which has just gone through one of the more bitter political organizations of the season, will end its existence.

The new central committee will meet immediately after the old organization completes its session. New officers will be selected and work will commence at once to prepare for the fall campaign. It is said that it has been the custom in the past for the old organization to look after the fall elections, but this will not be the case this year. The new officers will probably be: Chairman, John W. McQueen; vice chairman, William J. Gloss; secretary, Charles R. McGregor, Jr.; treasurer, E. R. Taylor.

To Pay for Improvements.

A note numerously signed was presented to the Silver Banking company today for $500. This money is to be used in paying for the improvements made to the postoffice by the board of service.

Water Trustees' Meeting.

At a meeting of the water works trustees last night a check for $1,558.33 was ordered drawn by City Auditor McGregor for the Sterling Boiler company of Barberton. These boilers are for the new pumping station. The trustees paid bills to the amount of $900 for the month of March and talked about the work being done at the new pumping station. Some checks presented with bids for the completion of the new pumping station were returned.

Two-Fold Inspection.

Supt. G. A. Sellers, of the telegraph department of the Northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west, is now on his annual inspection trip and today is passing over the Cleveland & Pittsburg division. He is with the party which is now making the inspection of the road for insurance purposes. The party is due in Cleveland tomorrow.

New Contracting Firm Begins.

The first work that the new contracting firm, which is composed of Thomas J. Rogers, of Wellsville, and others will do will be for the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company in the vicinity of Steubenville. The company expected to start excavating for improvements there last Monday, but the weather was such that this had to be deferred a week at least. It is now planned to commence their first contract work next Monday.

McGregor Has a System.

All bills which the city of Wellsville owes must be approved by the several boards on or before the first of the month, or they will not be paid until the month following. This system, which was inaugurated by City Auditor McGregor, is conceded to be the best business plan ever adopted by any official of the city. The fifth of every month is set by Auditor McGregor as "pay day" and nothing is paid out on or before or after that date.

Government Official Here.

For the purpose of obtaining the wealth and indebtedness of the city of Wellsville was the object of the visit of Cassius E. Wright, representing the United States census office, to Wellsville. He will complete his work in East Liverpool tonight and will probably be in Wellsville tomorrow. All the data he obtains will be published in book form by the department. He will visit all cities in Ohio having a population of 4,000 or more.

Six persons will be baptized at the morning service at the First Evangelical church, Main street, at the morning service. Rev. Mr. Vandersall will officiate. The morning sermon will be "The Stone Rolled Away." The evening sermon will be "God's Training School." No special musical program will be featured at the services at this church.

Makes Arrest; Walks Three Miles.
Detective Jewell had a hard row to hoe Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock. Word was received by the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad officials that coal was being stolen from cars near New Kensington. Detective Jewell investigated. He arrested three Assyrians and had to walk with them three miles over muddy country roads to the office of Justice Bryan, before a charge could be preferred against them. It is claimed to have been one of the most tedious trips ever made by the officer.

Spring Vacation Closes.

The spring vacation of the Wellsville schools will end this afternoon, and the spring term will open Monday at the usual hour. The scholars have spent a happy week at play, while some have availed themselves of the opportunity to visit friends in other places. The school teachers who have been spending the week at Washington, D. C., are expected home tomorrow or Sunday.

Italians Leaving Wellsville.

Within the past few days about 75 Italians have arrived in the Italian colony in Wellsville, but yesterday afternoon 24 of these left the city, going to Merrill station, where they will work for the railroad company. Some of the new members of the colony came to Wellsville from Steubenville and some from Salineville.

New Manager for Vulcan.

J. H. Chisholm, for some time affiliated with the Hill Realty company, of East Liverpool, has accepted the management of the Vulcan Brick plant, West End, commencing today. He is a well known young man, and is well versed with the brick industry.

Council Will Attend Church.

Wellsville council, Knights of Columbus, will attend the morning service at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Sunday, in a body. The council attends this service annually.

WELLSVILLE IN BRIEF.

Charles Hamilton, traveling passenger agent of the Wabash system, was in Wellsville yesterday on business. It is said he secured ten passengers for a far western point on his lines.

"Y and E" Rapid Roller Letter Copier
THE ONLY RATIONAL WAY TO COPY CORRESPONDENCE AND RECORDS.

A most desirable auxiliary to either the Vertical or Shannon Systems is the "Y and E" Rapid Roller Letter Copier.

Copies made by this machine have distinct advantages over those produced by the mussy letter-press and the inaccurate carbon copy.

Every correction or alteration in the original paper or letter is accurately reproduced.

Time and effort required are so small that no excuse exists for failing to retain a copy for the files.

This is the ORIGINAL roller process copying machine.

It is made solely by "Y & E."

No successful imitation has yet been produced, nor is there any other machine of this character which can properly do the work of this one.

Copies are made on a continuous roll of paper which winds automatically about a reel. Here they stretch tightly and dry smoothly.

From one to four clear and separate copies may be secured from one good original written in ink, indelible pencil or copying ribbon.

The Sign of the Surprise Leads You to the Fountain of Clothesdom!

Here you will always find the styles one season in advance of any store in the city. You read some merchants' advertisements and they make a great howl and tell you about "hand padded shoulders, hand padded collars, long lapels, hair cloth fronts." These are only a few of the many great improvements on ready-to-wear clothing we made four or five years ago, and we did not make so much fuss about it but allowed our Clothing and our Customers to talk for themselves. We never sell a customer a suit or overcoat but what it sells us others—that's the kind of clothes that talk for themselves. We want you to call and see the grandest line of it has been your pleasure to see. We haven't said anything about price, but that is a secondary consideration with us.

Our first consideration is Quality, our second consideration is Style, and our third consideration is Price. These are the three main points that interest both our customers and ourselves because what is good for our customers is certainly good for us. One satisfied customer will do us more good than a ten dollar ad. A satisfied customer costs us nothing but fair and honest treatment, but the ten ad. costs us ten dollars; that's one reason why we think it has always paid us to treat everybody right.

Now, we have been telling you about our Clothing but we have not said anything about our Hats and at that we have the only Exclusive Hat Store in the city; have you seen it since our alterations? Now nearly everybody buys a new Suit or Spring Overcoat and a new Hat for Easter. We want to tell you for your own good, as well as ours, that you will miss it if you don't come to see us for your Suit, Overcoat and Hat for Easter.

Men's and Boys' Hats.

Did you ever hear of a John B. Stetson Hat at $3.50? Most people pay $4 to $4.50 for the same hat. We sell them at $3.50. Then we have the John B. Stetson Special that is sold the would over at $6.00, we sell them at $5.00. Then we have our own Surprise Special in both stiff and soft hats; they are made for us and are especially good, the best in the world at $3.50. Come and see them.

Then we have the Diamond Special in a stiff Hat and the celebrated Young Bros. Hats; these are the two best hats on the market at $3.00. We are also the exclusive agents for the celebrated soft No Name Hats which are the best $3.00 hats made. Our next grade of hats are $2.50, 2.00, 1.50, 1.00 and as low as 50c for soft hats, and we give you our guarantee that they are the best hats made at the price or your money refunded.

Now, our next subject is trousers—we always keep the largest and best line in this city, always the latest styles and always the lowest prices as usual.

We received a nice line of Kid Gloves this week especially for Easter.

We have the finest line of Easter Neckwear in the city.

Have the largest line of Dress Shirts in the city, and would ask you to ask us to show you the latest shirt out; it is the Coat Shirt, it is as easy to take off and put on as a coat and is especially adapted for summer wear. Come take a look at them, price 50c up to $6.00.

We don't know if you know that when you buy your boy his Easter Suit we will give him a Target Gun FREE of charge, including a Rubber Ball and 100 Caps. If we forget or are too busy to give it to him, you will do us a favor by asking for them.

Now, we want you to look at our Children's and Boys' Clothing window and see if you can't see a nice Easter Suit for your boy. If you don't see it in the window we have plenty more inside. Also see our Men's Clothing window and our Hat window, also our Shirt windows on East Market St., and if you don't see what you want come inside our store—we can suit anybody.

Now last but not least, we are going to send three customers to the St. Louis Exposition—we will give them a Railroad Ticket free of charge; good for fifteen days and return. The first ticket will be given Monday evening, May 23. The second will be given Monday evening, July, and the third ticket will be given Monday eve, August.

Should the party holding the lucky number desire to go later than the above dates we will gladly buy their ticket for the trip at any time it is convenient for them to go.

Ask us for a World's Fair Coupon on every purchase of 25c. If you purchase a dollar's worth of goods we give 4 coupons; if you purchase five dollars' worth of goods you get 20 coupons; if you purchase ten dollars' worth you get 40 coupons, and so on. The more goods you purchase the more coupons you get. Ask us for coupons if we forget to give them, as they cost you nothing and you may get a free trip to the St. Louis Exposition.

broken that a few minutes' breathing spell became absolutely necessary, there was not one sign of fatigue among their opponents.

The caged floor makes the game faster than the collegians have been accustomed to and last night, at every opportunity, they knocked the ball over the netting into the crowd or onto the stage to gain the short delay necessary in recovering the ball and tossing up from center.

Captain Thompson, who in the other games has played right forward for the collegians, did not play last night, owing to an injury to his knee, sustained a day or so ago. Brown and Edgar were their forwards. The latter appeared in one of the earlier games and Edgar has alternated with Mitchell at center.

Edgar played a fine game and Geneva could not have done better with Thompson in his regular position. East missed several fouls that Thompson might have thrown, but it is not likely that he could have equalled Edgar's record of five baskets from the field. East's poor throwing did not affect the result.

The champions had a new change in their lineup last night. Allison was not in the first half. Powell and Bloor played forwards with the other players in their regular positions. Bloor retired in the second half, Allison going in.

The first half was fast and exciting. Edgar was the first player to cage the ball and Powell soon evened up. Edgar scored another by grace of his great height, knocking the ball in from Tommy Wotkin on a toss up. Both teams fouled several times, East missing his shots, Chadwick also failing.

Bewildered by the puzzling team work and passing of the Ohio champions and winded by the fast pace, the Geneva college was decisively defeated at the pavilion last night by a score of 31 to 20. The collegians went the first half neck and neck with the champions, but their spurt was over and the champions won in a canter.

For the first time in the four games the collegians showed a yellow streak. Their tactics to delay the game were most unsportsmanlike and it lost them the high regard of the big crowds that have seen the other games. The pace did not even show on the champions and when the collegians were so windas the collegians did not have the wind to keep up the champions' hot pace. Watkin opened with a hard shot and on a foul East scored for the first time. East scored from the field and Chadwick counted twice. East scored another and Allison made his fourth one. East made a foul throw and Edgar scored twice from the field. Powell made the last field goal and both teams gained a point on the double foul called just at the end of the half.

Following is the individual record: East Liverpool—Powell, Bloor and Allison, forwards; Rigby, center; Watkin and Chadwick, guards.

Geneva—Edgar and Brown, forwards; Mitchell, center; East and Leach, guards.

Goals—Allison 4, Powell 3, Rigby 1, Watkin 2, Chadwick 4, Edgar 5, Brown 1, East 2. Fouls—Rigby 3, East 4. Referee—Jones, of Sharpsburg.

The Juniors presented a new front but the change did not work well and the Sterlings had a Walkover. Powell, the Sterlings' center, played a fine game, and caged eight baskets. Cartwright was in good form and scored five.

The individual record is as follows: Sterlings—R. Bucher and Pomeroy, forwards; Powell, center; Cartwright and S. Bucher, guards.

HIGH WATER CAUSED DAMAGE NEAR LISBON

There Were Landslides on the Railroad While County Roads Also Suffered.

Lisbon, April 1.—(Special.)—As a result of the heavy rains of last night the middle fork of the Beaver is higher than it was in January and again a few weeks ago but no particular damage has resulted. The water is up to the Thomas China company's plant but is not interfering with its operation.

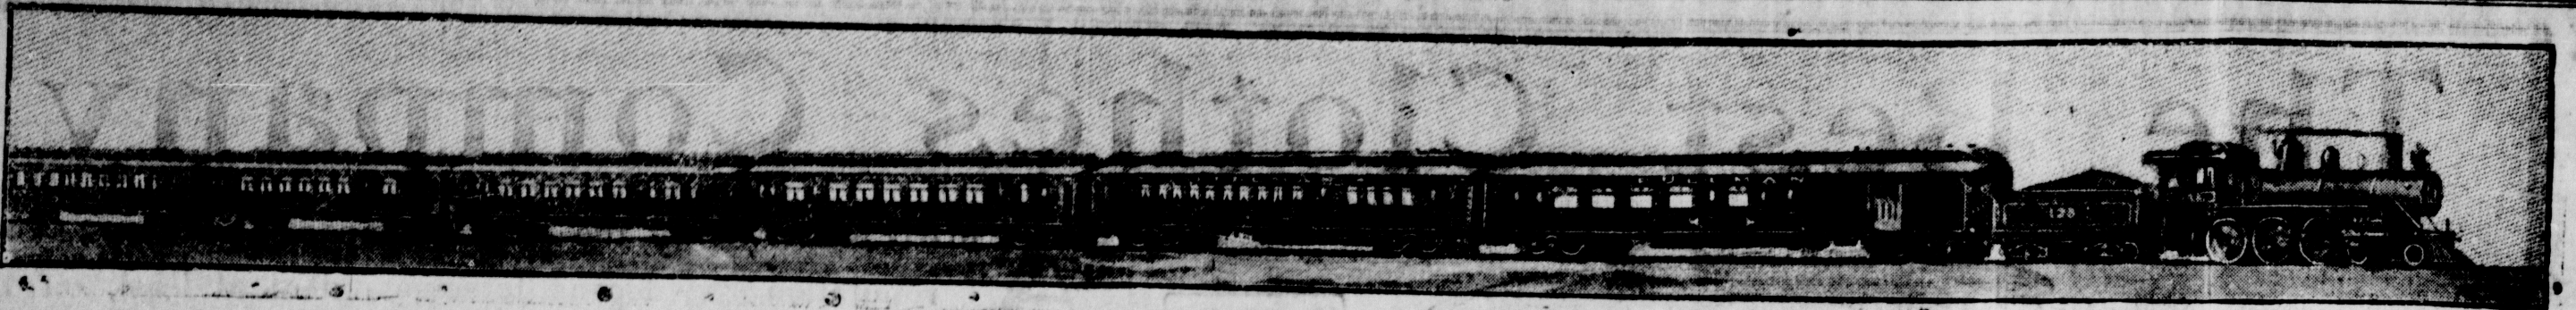

Several landslides along the Erie railroad between Long's Crossing and Leetonia detained the north bound train three hours this morning. The train did not leave Lisbon until after 10 o'clock. In the flats near Leetonia the Erie tracks are under about six inches of water.

Five culverts on county roads north of Lisbon are reported to have been washed out. The Albright hill between Lisbon and Salem, which was graded last summer, is said to be so badly washed that there is scarcely enough of the road left in places for a buggy to pass.

Now, we have been telling you about our Clothing but we have not said anything about our Hats and at that we have the only Exclusive Hat Store in the city; have you seen it since our alterations? Now nearly everybody buys a new Suit or Spring Overcoat and a new Hat for Easter. We want to tell you for your own good, as well as ours, that you will miss it if you don't come to see us for your Suit, Overcoat and Hat for Easter.

Men's and Boys' Hats.

Did you ever hear of a John B. Stetson Hat at $3.50? Most people pay $4 to $4.50 for the same hat. We sell them at $3.50. Then we have the John B. Stetson Special that is sold the world over at $6.00, we sell them at $5.00. Then we have our own Surprise Special in both stiff and soft hats; they are made for us and are especially good, the best in the world at $3.50. Come and see them.

Then we have the Diamond Special in a stiff Hat and the celebrated Young Bros. Hats; these are the two best hats on the market at $3.00. We are also the exclusive agents for the celebrated soft No Name Hats which are the best $3.00 hats made. Our next grade of hats are $2.50, 2.00, 1.50, 1.00 and as low as 50c for soft hats, and we give you our guarantee that they are the best hats made at the price or your money refunded.

Now, our next subject is trousers—we always keep the largest and best line in this city, always the latest styles and always the lowest prices as usual.

We received a nice line of Kid Gloves this week especially for Easter.

We have the finest line of Easter Neckwear in the city.

Have the largest line of Dress Shirts in the city, and would ask you to ask us to show you the latest shirt out; it is the Coat Shirt, it is as easy to take off and put on as a coat and is especially adapted for summer wear. Come take a look at them, price 50c up to $6.00.

We don't know if you know that when you buy your boy his Easter Suit we will give him a Target Gun FREE of charge, including a Rubber Ball and 100 Caps. If we forget or are too busy to give it to him, you will do us a favor by asking for them.

Now, we want you to look at our Children's and Boys' Clothing window and see if you can't see a nice Easter Suit for your boy. If you don't see it in the window we have plenty more inside. Also see our Men's Clothing window and our Hat window, also our Shirt windows on East Market St., and if you don't see what you want come inside our store—we can suit anybody.

Now last but not least, we are going to send three customers to the St. Louis Exposition—we will give them a Railroad Ticket free of charge; good for fifteen days and return. The first ticket will be given Monday evening, May 23. The second will be given Monday evening, July, and the third ticket will be given Monday eve, August.

Should the party holding the lucky number desire to go later than the above dates we will gladly buy their ticket for the trip at any time it is convenient for them to go.

Ask us for a World's Fair Coupon on every purchase of 25c. If you purchase a dollar's worth of goods we give 4 coupons; if you purchase five dollars' worth of goods you get 20 coupons; if you purchase ten dollars' worth you get 40 coupons, and so on. The more goods you purchase the more coupons you get. Ask us for coupons if we forget to give them, as they cost you nothing and you may get a free trip to the St. Louis Exposition.

PACE TOO FAST FOR COLLEGIANS

Champions Had Them Winded and Had No Trouble in Winning the Game.

Collegians Knocked the Ball out of Bounds And Resorted to Other Tactics to Gain a Breathing Spell. Team Work Bewildered Them.

Bewildered by the puzzling team work and passing of the Ohio champions and winded by the fast pace, the Geneva college was decisively defeated at the pavilion last night by a score of 31 to 20. The collegians went the first half neck and neck with the champions, but their spurt was over and the champions won in a canter.

For the first time in the four games the collegians showed a yellow streak. Their tactics to delay the game were most unsportsmanlike and it lost them the high regard of the big crowds that have seen the other games. The pace did not even show on the champions and when the collegians were so windbroken that a few minutes' breathing spell became absolutely necessary there was not one sign of fatigue among their opponents.

The caged floor makes the game faster than the collegians have been accustomed to and last night, at every opportunity, they knocked the ball over the netting into the crowd or onto the stage to gain the short delay necessary in recovering the ball and tossing up from center.

Captain Thompson, who in the other games has played right forward for the collegians, did not play last night, owing to an injury to his knee, sustained a day or so ago. Brown and Edgar were their forwards. The latter appeared in one of the earlier games and Edgar has alternated with Mitchell at center.

Edgar played a fine game and Geneva could not have done better with Thompson in his regular position. East missed several fouls that Thompson might have thrown, but it is not likely that he could have equalled Edgar's record of five baskets from the field. East's poor throwing did not affect the result.

The champions had a new change in their lineup last night. Allison was not in the first half. Powell and Bloor playing forwards with the other players in their regular positions. Bloor retired in the second half, Allison going in.

The first half was fast and exciting. Edgar was the first player to cage the ball and Powell soon evened up. Edgar scored another by grace of his great height, knocking the ball in from Tommy Watkin on a toss up. Both teams fouled several times, East missing his shots, Chadwick also falling.

while Rigby made his throw. Rigby missed a foul a moment later, but Chadwick, who has been playing a remarkable game, scored from the field. East fouled again and Rigby counted. Edgar counted again from the field, giving Geneva a lead of two points. Both teams fouled again, but neither East or Rigby counted. East missed on another foul and Chadwick evened up the score with a fine running shot. Surrounded by the opposing players Watkin made a difficult basket, and Rigby added another, the half ending 12 to 8 in favor of the champions. The second half was rather tame, as the collegians did not have the wind to keep up the champions' hot pace. Watkin opened with a hard shot and on a foul East scored for the first time. Powell caged one and Allison counted a moment later. "Patty" played a fast game and scored his second basket a moment later. East threw another foul and Allison caged his third one. East scored from the field and Chadwick counted twice. East scored another and Allison made his fourth one. East made a foul throw and Edgar scored twice from the field. Powell made the last field goal and both teams gained a point on the double foul called just at the end of the half.

Following is the individual record: East Liverpool—Powell, Bloor and Allison, forwards; Rigby, center; Watkin and Chadwick, guards.

Geneva—Edgar and Brown, forwards; Mitchell, center; East and Leach, guards.

Goals—Allison 4, Powell 3, Rigby 1, Watkin 2, Chadwick 4, Edgar 5, Brown 1, East 2. Fouls—Rigby 3, East 4. Referee—Jones, of Sharpsburg.

STERLINGS PILED UP A GREAT SCORE

Had Easy Sailing With the Juniors in the Preliminary Game Last Night.

The Sterlings put it all over the Juniors in the preliminary game last night, piling up the biggest score, 40 to 11, that has been made in these games during the season. The Juniors presented a new front but the change did not work well and the Sterlings had a Walkover. Powell, the Sterlings' center, played a fine game, and caged eight baskets. Cartwright was in good form and scored five.

The individual record is as follows: Sterlings—R. Bucher and Pomeroy, forwards; Powell, center; Cartwright and S. Bucher, guards.

Juniors—Geon and W. Watkin, forwards; Manley, center; Hamil and H. Watkin, guards.

Goals—Powell 8, Cartwright 5, S. Bucher 2, Pomeroy 3, R. Bucher 1, Manley 1, Hamil 1. Fouls—Powell 2, W. Watkin 7.

FOR MONEY OR FUN

The All-American Base Ball Team Eager for a Game With the Primrose.

Some time ago the manager of the All-American base ball club, a juvenile team of this city, issued a challenge to play the Primrose the first game of the season. For some reason the manager of the latter club failed to accept. Manager Robert A. Curran, of the All-American aggregation, called at the News Review office last night and authorized the following statement:

"In order to start the season right we are anxious to get on a game with the Primrose team. We will play them for money or for fun and there will be no trouble in arranging the preliminaries as far as we are concerned."

HIGH WATER CAUSED DAMAGE NEAR LISBON

There Were Landslides on the Railroad While County Roads Also Suffered.

Lisbon, April 1.—(Special).—As a result of the heavy rains of last night the middle fork of the Beaver is higher than it was in January and again a few weeks ago but no particular damage has resulted. The water is up to the Thomas China company's plant but is not interfering with its operation.

Several landslides along the Erie railroad between Long's Crossing and Leetonia detained the north bound train three hours this morning. The train did not leave Lisbon until after 10 o'clock. In the flats near Leetonia the Erie tracks are under about six inches of water.

Five culverts on county roads north of Lisbon are reported to have been washed out. The Albright hill between Lisbon and Salem, which was graded last summer, is said to be so badly washed that there is scarcely enough of the road left in places for a buggy to pass.

STORM CAUSED DAMAGE

Middle run was mad and nothing in human power could have saved the bridge that spans the stream at Carolina avenue. The abutments were washed out and now barely stand, a tottering mass of masonry with great holes at several points. No wing walls were ever put up at the abutments to the bridge and the water found its way in behind, and the earth carried down the stream. Hugs stones were carried more than a hundred yards into the river and planks and wood work of all kinds were swept away. The masonry had been weakened by the last high water, and though the city authorities were urged to make repairs it had not been done.

A short distance west of the bridge the water went over the fill and threatened to create incalculable damage at Faulk Bros.' flouring mill. The firm had profited by the experience, however, and were prepared for the high water. High banks had been constructed at low points about the building and the water on this occasion failed to reach the engine room.

Residents of Third street have had a petition before the council praying that that thoroughfare might be opened up and improved. The righteousness of their claims was demonstrated last night when the water washed tons of earth over the hill into the E. S. Good lot near the river.

No trains could be run into Chester today on account of the condition of a bad slip near Brennenman's. A large amount of earth was washed down the bank and onto the railroad tracks. The early train this morning came up as far as the slip, but was compelled to return. Up in town the Panhandle tracks are covered with sand to the depth of several feet. From First street to Fourth, where the cut for the railway was made, the banks have caved in every foot of the way. A vast amount of work will be required to place the tracks in shape to permit the running of trains.

SUBURBAN RAILWAYS

PUT OUT OF BUSINESS

In this city the damage was serious, and in addition to the loss in actual money there was much suffering and inconvenience. The two suburban railways suffered a great deal and no cars were run over them until late this afternoon. Washouts were encountered on the Grandview extension and on the Pleasant Heights line the tracks at many points are covered with rocks and dirt several feet deep. On both lines the last few trips last night were made with extreme difficulty and the crews were on the point of giving up on account of the danger from falling boulders.

The stone wall in front of Holland Manley's on the Lisbon road was washed away, causing great damage. Street Commissioner Diekey was notified and will repair the damage as soon as possible.

A large amount of dirt and rocks were piled up at the rear of Pearce's store on Carpenter street and besides doing considerable damage will cause much work in the way of cleaning up. Jethro street was partially washed out and many sections of it were blocked by rubbish, rocks and dirt that settled on them. In one place a tree which rolled from the top of a hill, a distance of perhaps 100 yards, crosses the road.

THE HILL DISTRICTS

CAUGHT IT HEAVILY

In the hill districts many scores of cellars are filled with water. Retaining walls on the hill streets were loosened and in a few instances large stones have been carried clear away. The city will be called upon to pay out many thousands of dollars in damages.

ages and for repairs. The flood was unlooked for and no preparations had been made to meet it. On account of the condition of the city's finances the situation promises to be embarrassing, and it will be a long time before the expense is all liquidated.

Although Lake run and other small streams of the East End were on a rampage there was very little damage as compared with that of March 3. Sandy Bottom, the section just west of Columbian park, was partially inundated and several houses were surrounded. As in the March flood the stream found its way through an old course and spread over the bottom.

There were several small slips on the street car line from Elizabeth avenue east to the state line, but no damage was done except that cars could not be run through. The trestle at Oakland switch, damaged in March, was not further weakened and very little damage is reported along Dry Run.

Along Lake run west of Mulberry street considerable damage was wrought. The foundation of a house on Maple street, owned by M. W. Taylor, was partly washed away, but other houses near escaped. Maple street and Locust alley were flooded and the water spread over the bottom. The water made bad holes in sidewalks at a number of places and the country roads leading into the East End suffered to a considerable extent.

CANCEROUS ULCERS

ROOTED IN THE BLOOD.

After the age of 45 or 50, when the vital powers are naturally weaker, it is noticed that a hurt of any kind heals slowly and often a very insignificant scarlet or bruise becomes a bad ulcer or sore. At this time of life warty growths, moles and pimples that have been on the body almost from birth begin to inflame and fester and before very long are large eating ulcers.

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing then you may be sure something is radically wrong with your blood. Some old taint or poison that has been slumbering there for years, is beginning to assert itself, and breaks out and becomes a bad ulcer and perhaps the beginning of Cancer. These old sores are rooted in the blood, and while washes, soaps, salves, etc., keep the surface clean, they are not healing. A blood medicine to purify and strengthen the polluted blood and a tonic to build up the general system is what is needed, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. No poison is so powerful and no germ so deadly that this great vegetable blood remedy cannot reach it, and ulcers of every kind quickly yield to its wonderful curative properties. If you have an old sore or ulcer, write us all about it, and medical advice or any information you may desire will be given by our physicians.

Patrick Ryan left this morning for the Pine Grove oil fields, where he will work.

R. H. Allison will move from near the Allison school house Monday to the property of S. M. Severs on Carolina avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Severs

Middle run was mad and nothing in human power could have saved the bridge that spans the stream at Carolina avenue. The abutments were washed out and now barely stand, a tottering mass of masonry with great holes at several points. No wing walls were ever put up at the abutments to the bridge and the water found its way in behind, and the earth carried down the stream. Hugs stones were carried more than a hundred yards into the river and planks and wood work of all kinds were swept away. The masonry had been weakened by the last high water, and though the city authorities were urged to make repairs it had not been done.

A short distance west of the bridge the water went over the fill and threatened to create incalculable damage at Faulk Bros.' flouring mill. The firm had profited by the experience, however, and were prepared for the high water. High banks had been constructed at low points about the building and the water on this occasion failed to reach the engine room.

Residents of Third street have had a petition before the council praying that that thoroughfare might be opened up and improved. The righteousness of their claims was demonstrated last night when the water washed tons of earth over the hill into the E. S. Good lot near the river.

No trains could be run into Chester today on account of the condition of a bad slip near Brennenman's. A large amount of earth was washed down the bank and onto the railroad tracks. The early train this morning came up as far as the slip, but was compelled to return. Up in town the Panhandle tracks are covered with sand to the depth of several feet. From First street to Fourth, where the cut for the railway was made, the banks have caved in every foot of the way. A vast amount of work will be required to place the tracks in shape to permit the running of trains.

SUBURBAN RAILWAYS

PUT OUT OF BUSINESS

In this city the damage was serious, and in addition to the loss in actual money there was much suffering and inconvenience. The two suburban railways suffered a great deal and no cars were run over them until late this afternoon. Washouts were encountered on the Grandview extension and on the Pleasant Heights line the tracks at many points are covered with rocks and dirt several feet deep. On both lines the last few trips last night were made with extreme difficulty and the crews were on the point of giving up on account of the danger from falling boulders.

The stone wall in front of Holland Manley's on the Lisbon road was washed away, causing great damage. Street Commissioner Dickey was notified and will repair the damage as soon as possible.

A large amount of dirt and rocks were piled up at the rear of Pearce's store on Carpenter street and besides doing considerable damage will cause much work in the way of cleaning up. Jethro street was partially washed out and many sections of it were blocked by rubbish, rocks and dirt that settled on them. In one place a tree which rolled from the top of a hill, a distance of perhaps 100 yards, crosses the road.

THE HILL DISTRICTS

CAUGHT IT HEAVILY

In the hill districts many scores of cellars are filled with water. Retaining walls on the hill streets were loosened and in a few instances large stones have been carried clear away.

The city will be called upon to pay out many thousands of dollars in damages and for repairs. The flood was unlooked for and no preparations had been made to meet it. On account of the condition of the city's finances the situation promises to be embarrassing, and it will be a long time before the expense is all liquidated.

Although Lake run and other small streams of the East End were on a rampage there was very little damage as compared with that of March 3. Sandy Bottom, the section just west of Columbian park, was partially inundated and several houses were surrounded. As in the March flood the stream found its way through an old course and spread over the bottom.

There were several small slips on the street car line from Elizabeth avenue east to the state line, but no damage was done except that cars could not be run through. The trestle at Oakland switch, damaged in March, was not further weakened and very little damage is reported along Dry Run.

Along Lake run west of Mulberry street considerable damage was wrought. The foundation of a house on Maple street, owned by M. W. Taylor, was partly washed away, but other houses near escaped. Maple street and Locust alley were flooded and the water spread over the bottom.

The water made bad holes in sidewalks at a number of places and the country roads leading into the East End suffered to a considerable extent.

Lisbon, April 1.—(Special)—Friends in Lisbon have received invitations to the marriage of John Murray Watson, of Pittsburg, and Miss Blanch Crosey, of Salsfeld, Pa. which will take place in the Leetsdale Presbyterian church on the evening of April 11. Mr. Watson played with the Lisbon football team last fall. The couple will live in Pittsburg.

CANCEROUS ULCERS

ROOTED IN THE BLOOD.

becomes a bad ulcer or sore. At this time of life, warty growths, moles and pimples that have been on the body almost from birth begin to inflame and fester, and before very long are large eating ulcers.

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing then you may be sure something is radically wrong with your blood. Some old taint or poison that has been slumbering there for years, is beginning to assert itself, and breaks out and becomes a bad ulcer, and perhaps the beginning of Cancer. These old sores are rooted in the blood, and while washes, soaps, salves, etc., keep the surface clean, they are not healing. A blood medicine to purify and strengthen the polluted blood and a tonic to build up the general system is what is needed, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. No poison is so powerful and no germ so deadly that this great vegetable blood remedy cannot reach it, and ulcers of every kind quickly yield to its wonderful curative properties. If you have an old sore or ulcer, write us all about it, and medical advice or any information you may desire will be given by our physicians without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

This is the case that can be moved one unit at a time without disturbing the books—that can be arranged to fit most any space—that is protected by non-binding roller-bearing dust-proof doors—that is the handsomest, best, and only perfect sectional bookcase made. Our illustrations show several desirable combinations with prices for the cases furnished in golden quartered oak, weathered oak, or imitation mahogany. We furnish them in plain oak at lower prices or in genuine mahogany at higher prices. We also give prices of the different units or sections so the cost of additions to, or portions of, any combination shown is easily determined. One thing we don't and can't show here, and that is the beautiful finish and appearance of the cases. But we would like to have you call and see them—or will send catalogue if requested.

The TOP COAT

is perhaps one of the "nobbiest" overgarments made. It has an air of jauntness all its own. But unless it is properly proportioned it loses its individuality. You can depend upon the Clothcraft TopiCoat to be fashioned on the proper lines.

The shoulders are broad, the collar clings closely to the neck, the back hangs gracefully, the whole garment is as shapely as the best tailors in the land can make it.

The illustration gives a good idea of the appearance and fit of the coat, but you will better appreciate its merit by seeing it.

Come to our store and examine it, look at the material, the lining, the trimmings—try it on and see what a superb garment it is.

You'll agree it is worth more than it costs—$10 to $25.

And be sure to get the new style book.

It shows all the proper fashions for spring and summer as exemplified in "Clothcraft" creations. It's yours for the asking.

Birthday Surprise.

About 20 friends of Mrs. Jennie Dalley, of 303 Lincoln avenue, gathered last evening at her house in her absence, loaded her table with the choicest of cakes, fruit and ice cream. On her return she found her old associates comfortably occupying her parlor waiting the opportunity to notify her that it was her birthday. After a jolly time over the surprise came the disposal of dainties. Then came presents, the presentation being appropriately made by Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Kalamazoo, Mich. Games which all enjoyed were indulged in and the evening was one long to be remembered.

Well Attended.

The supper and entertainment given last evening in the A. M. E. church was well attended and enjoyed by the large number present. The supper was excellent and of much credit to those having it in charge. The decorations too were arranged very pretty for the occasion, and the program for the evening was much enjoyed. The proceeds from the supper will be added to the church fund.

Belmont Club's Dance.

The dance given last evening by the members of the Belmont club was a pleasant event. There were about 30 members and their lady friends in the party and all fully enjoyed the dancing and cards. Excellent music was furnished, and at a late hour refreshments were served. There were several April fool jokes going, which kept the crowd merry and on the alert.

Pleasantly Entertained.

Mrs. J. B. Taylor entertained the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the M. P. church at her home on College street last night. A musical program was carried out and dainty refreshments were served. Miss Alma and Howard Taylor will entertain the Junior Endeavor society this evening.

MASKED BANDITS HELD UP A TRAIN

Killed the Express Messenger, Then Dynamited And Looted the Safe.

Sacramento, Cal., April 1.—(Special.)—Three masked men last night held up the Ogden express train on the Southern Pacific railroad near Copley, relieved the express car of all its valuables and escaped into the darkness. After stopping the train they detached the engine and express car, ran them up the track a short distance and then entered the former.

Messenger W. K. O'Neil was shot and instantly killed because he would not open the safe. The bandits then blew the safe and secured everything. The amount stolen is not known, but will aggregate thousands.

WHAT THE NEW BRIDGE MEANS FOR THIS CITY

end. This will be done immediately by the solicitor and passed by council at its next regular meeting.

The solicitor was not instructed to draft an ordinance to grant the company a franchise over the street. The company has not asked for a franchise and will not do so until it receives the requisite number of petitioners for a right of way from the approach of the bridge to the Diamond or whatever terminus is decided upon. It would be foolhardy for council to pass two ordinances for the same purpose. The company agreed to remove the bodies from the lot to be dedicated as a street and to keep the lot in repair forever. The statement of a morning paper that the bridge company would remove all the bodies at a cost of $2,000 is to absurd to even notice.

Oliver Burford, who owns a lot near the approach of the proposed bridge, appeared before the body and stated that he would most assuredly protest against the bridge being erected parallel with his lot. He says he intends to build on it some day and that a bridge in front of his house will damage it greatly. He wanted council to give him fair consideration, but the councilmen soon made it plain that they had nothing to do with his property. There is a state law governing such conditions and which gives him recourse in the courts if he can obtain a judgment against the bridge company and not the city.

When the bridge is completed it will open a territory much larger than any lands adjacent to the city. On the Newell site will be built a magnificent town. It will be a great industrial spot, hundreds of people will be employed there and subsequently the site will be enlarged to such an extent that all of the land lying between it and Congo will be incorporated into one great city. East Liverpool will be the center of it all. She will receive benefits incalculable and the city council could do nothing more detrimental to East Liverpool's future prosperity than to oppose the bridge company.

MASKED BANDITS HELD UP A TRAIN

Killed the Express Messenger, Then Dynamited And Looted the Safe.

Sacramento, Cal., April 1.—(Special.)—Three masked men last night held up the Ogden express train on the Southern Pacific railroad near Copley, relieved the express car of all its valuables and escaped into the darkness. After stopping the train they detached the engine and express car, ran them up the track a short distance and then entered the former.

Messenger W. K. O'Neil was shot and instantly killed because he would not open the safe. The bandits then blew the safe and secured everything. The amount stolen is not known, but will aggregate thousands.

We have the most complete and choicest line in the city of fresh meats, poultry, eggs and butter, for your Easter dinner, including genuine spring lamb.

end. This will be done immediately by the solicitor and passed by council at its next regular meeting.

The solicitor was not instructed to draft an ordinance to grant the company a franchise over the street. The company has not asked for a franchise and will not do so until it receives the requisite number of petitioners for a right of way from the approach of the bridge to the Diamond or whatever terminus is decided upon. It would be foolhardy for council to pass two ordinances for the same purpose. The company agreed to remove the bodies from the lot to be dedicated as a street and to keep the lot in repair forever. The statement of a morning paper that the bridge company would remove all the bodies at a cost of $2,000 is to absurd to even notice.

Oliver Burford, who owns a lot near the approach of the proposed bridge, appeared before the body and stated that he would most assuredly protest against the bridge being erected parallel with his lot. He says he intends to build on some day and that a bridge in front of his house will damage it greatly. He wanted council to give him fair consideration, but the councilmen said they had nothing to do with his property. There is a state law governing such conditions and which gives him recourse in the courts if he can obtain a judgment against the bridge company and not the city.

When the bridge is completed it will open a territory much larger than any lands adjacent to the city. On the Newell site will be built a magnificent town. It will be a great industrial spot, hundreds of people will be employed there and subsequently the site will be enlarged to such an extent that all of the land lying between it and Congo will be incorporated into one great city. East Liverpool will be the center of it all. She will receive benefits incalculable and the city council could do nothing more detrimental to East Liverpool's future prosperity than to oppose the bridge company.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Birthday Surprise.

About 20 friends of Mrs. Jennie Dalley, of 303 Lincoln avenue, gathered last evening at her house in her absence, loaded her table with the choicest of cakes, fruit and ice cream. On her return she found her old associates comfortably occupying her parlor waiting the opportunity to notify her that it was her birthday. After a jolly time over the surprise came the disposal of dainties. Then came presents, the presentation being appropriately made by Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Kalamazoo, Mich. Games which all enjoyed were indulged in and the evening was one long to be remembered.

Well Attended.

The supper and entertainment given last evening in the A. M. E. church was well attended and enjoyed by the large number present. The supper was excellent and of much credit to those having it in charge. The decorations too were arranged very pretty for the occasion, and the program for the evening was much enjoyed. The proceeds from the supper will be added to the church fund.

Belmont Club's Dance.

The dance given last evening by the members of the Belmont club was a pleasant event. There were about 30 members and their lady friends in the party and all fully enjoyed the dancing and cards. Excellent music was furnished, and at a late hour refreshments were served. There were several April fool jokes going, which kept the crowd merry and on the alert.

Pleasantly Entertained.

Mrs. J. B. Taylor entertained the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the M. P. church at her home on College street last night. A musical program was carried out and dainty refreshments were served. Miss Alma and Howard Taylor will entertain the Junior Endeavor society this evening.

ELK'S ELECTION

The Local Lodge Makes Choice of Officers for the Ensuing Term.

The following officers were elected last night by the local lodge of Elks: James S. Hilbert, exalted ruler; Ed Lewis, esteemed leading knight; John Sellers, esteemed loyal knight; Chas. Stewart, esteemed lecturing knight; G. W. Bendheim, treasurer; Percy Baxter, tyler; Frank McNutt, delegate to the grand lodge; Ed Gould, alternate; Henry Joseph, delegate to state convention; Lewis Steinfeld, alternate; John J. Rose, trustee.

Serious Operation Performed.

Lisbon, April 1.—(Special.)—J. Asbit, of Washingtonville, was brought to Lisbon yesterday by M. J. Whitney, assistant to Dr. H. W. Thompson, of Salem, and was taken to Riverside hospital, where a serious operation was performed on him today for the removal of an abscess from the inside of his head. An opening had to be made in the skull of the patient. Dr. T. B. Marquis, of Lisbon, assisted in the operation.

CENSUS MAN TAKING NOTES

Government Official In the City
on an Important
Mission.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW PLAN

Of Gathering Statistics of Interest
Which Will Show the Wealth and
Condition of Every Section of the Country.

Cassius E. Wright, representing the United States census office, arrived in the city yesterday from Lisbon and will remain here for several days gathering statistics for a report to be submitted to headquarters at Washington, D. C. The information sought by Mr. Wright is of the wealth and indebtedness of the municipality.

Mr. Wright explained to a reporter of the News Review last evening that the object in securing the statistics is to have them compiled along with those of every other city in the state of 4,000 or more inhabitants, and cities under that population if they are county seats, for the purpose of getting a conservative estimate of the wealth and indebtedness of the entire commonwealth. In past years a census of the cities has been taken, but never before was the system so complete and until this time no one was ever able to give a fair idea of a state's valuation.

There are a number of men doing the same work as Mr. Wright in different sections of this state and the entire country is being invaded by men so employed. The men expect to complete their labors within the present year and then the statistics will be compiled at the census office for distribution to those who desire them. The value of the books will be much and the originator of the improved scheme will have accomplished a great deal when the books are before the public.

It was impossible for Mr. Wright to make any declaration regarding East Liverpool, having only started on the work, but he anticipates that the city will rank well with other cities of its size and rate above many. While at Lisbon he took the statistics of both the county seat and the entire county and was gratified to find its general condition.

Mr. Wright is an affable, kindly gentleman and has already made numerous friends in the city.

Will Reed Guarantees to Refund the Money if Hyomei Fails to Cure
the Worst Case of Catarrh.

It is no uncommon thing to see a medicine advertised as a "guaranteed cure." But investigation usually shows that the guarantee is made by some unknown firm, hundreds of miles away. The guarantee, though, that comes with Hyomei, is entirely different. It is made by Will Reed, one of the most reliable druggists in this section. He advertises that if Hyomei does not cure the worst case of catarrh, he will return the money without any question or argument. No business house in East Liverpool has a better reputation for square dealing than Will Reed, and when he guarantees that he will refund the money if Hyomei fails to cure catarrh, no one has any question as to the agreement being lived up to, both in the spirit and letter.

Hyomei is very easy and pleasant to use. Just breathe it through the little inhaler that comes with every outfit; every breath will bring recovery so much the nearer. It kills all the germs of catarrhal troubles in the air passages of the head, throat and lungs, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and is the only natural cure for catarrh.

The complete outfit costs but one dollar, and extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for fifty cents. Do not let a slight catarrhal trouble develop into one that may be serious and chronic. Use Hyomei at once, remembering that you run no risk whatever when you try Hyomei on Will Reed's offer of "no cure, no pay."

the most eagerly sought of all the game hunted in this section of the country.

"It is much feared," said a local sportsman, this morning, "that the heavy blankets of snow that covered the ground sometimes for weeks at a time, have had the effect of almost wiping out the supply of quail, for they were deprived of their only means of subsistence, and leaving them at the mercy of the hawks. The quail must find their food in the grass, and, with snow covering the ground, this is impossible. Moreover, they are accustomed to roost on the ground, and the inevitable result is that they become weak and thin, and die of want, or are pounced upon by the hawks."

"Other game in this section, such as pheasant, wild turkey, squirrel and rabbit, lose nothing by a severe winter, and find food, and furthermore, can subsist from the bark of trees, particularly in apple orchards. The Pheasant, being much larger and stronger than the quail, can scratch through shrubbery and snow and find food, and, furthermore, is accustomed to roost on limbs of trees or bushes." Farmers in all sections of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia report that quail have suffered terribly during the past winter, and one of the poorest hunting seasons in history is certain to result.

Will Reed Guarantees to Refund the
Money if Hyomei Fails to Cure
the Worst Case of Catarrh.

It is no uncommon thing to see a medicine advertised as a "guaranteed cure." But investigation usually shows that the guarantee is made by some unknown firm, hundreds of miles away. The guarantee, though, that comes with Hyomei, is entirely different. It is made by Will Reed, one of the most reliable druggists in this section. He advertises that if Hyomei does not cure the worst case of catarrh, he will return the money without any question or argument. No business house in East Liverpool has a better reputation for square dealing than Will Reed, and when he guarantees that he will refund the money if Hyomei fails to cure catarrh, no one has any question as to the agreement being lived up to, both in the spirit and letter.

Hyomei is very easy and pleasant to use. Just breathe it through the little inhaler that comes with every outfit; every breath will bring recovery so much the nearer. It kills all the germs of catarrhal troubles in the air passages of the head, throat and lungs, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and is the only natural cure for catarrh.

The complete outfit costs but one dollar, and extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for fifty cents. Do not let a slight catarrhal trouble develop into one that may be serious and chronic. Use Hyomei at once, remembering that you run no risk whatever when you try Hyomei on Will Reed's offer of "no cure, no pay."

the most eagerly sought of all the game hunted in this section of the country.

"It is much feared," said a local sportsman, this morning, "that the heavy blankets of snow that covered the ground sometimes for weeks at a time, have had the effect of almost wiping out the supply of quail, for they were deprived of their only means of subsistence, and leaving them at the mercy of the hawks. The quail must find their food in the grass, and, with snow covering the ground, this is impossible. Moreover, they are accustomed to roost on the ground, and the inevitable result is that they become weak and thin, and die of want, or are pounced upon by the hawks."

"Other game in this section, such as pheasant, wild turkey, squirrel and rabbit, lose nothing by a severe winter, and find food, and furthermore, can subsist from the bark of trees, particularly in apple orchards. The Pheasant, being much larger and stronger than the quail, can scratch through shrubbery and snow and find food, and, furthermore, is accustomed to roost on limbs of trees or bushes." Farmers in all sections of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia report that quail have suffered terribly during the past winter, and one of the poorest hunting seasons in history is certain to result.

CENSUS MAN TAKING NOTES

Government Official In the City
on an Important
Mission.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW PLAN

Of Gathering Statistics of Interest
Which Will Show the Wealth and
Condition of Every Section of the Country.

Cassius E. Wright, representing the United States census office, arrived in the city yesterday from Lisbon and will remain here for several days gathering statistics for a report to be submitted to headquarters at Washington, D. C. The information sought by Mr. Wright is of the wealth and indebtedness of the municipality.

Mr. Wright explained to a reporter of the News Review last evening that the object in securing the statistics is to have them compiled along with those of every other city in the state of 4,000 or more inhabitants, and cities under that population if they are county seats, for the purpose of getting a conservative estimate of the wealth and indebtedness of the entire commonwealth. In past years a census of the cities has been taken, but never before was the system so complete and until this time no one was ever able to give a fair idea of a state's valuation.

There are a number of men doing the same work as Mr. Wright in different sections of this state and the entire country is being invaded by men so employed. The men expect to complete their labors within the present year and then the statistics will be compiled at the census office for distribution to those who desire them. The value of the books will be much and the originator of the improved scheme will have accomplished a great deal when the books are before the public.

It was impossible for Mr. Wright to make any declaration regarding East Liverpool, having only started on the work, but he anticipates that the city will rank well with other cities of its size and rate above many. While at Lisbon he took the statistics of both the county seat and the entire county and was gratified to find its general condition.

Mr. Wright is an affable, kindly gentleman and has already made numerous friends in the city.

Doings In Drama's World

Henry Miller's New Play, "Man Proposes." The Century Players In "Much Ado About Nothing." Katherine Kennedy's Debut.

(From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.) Judging by the activity among New York theatrical managers, one would readily imagine that the season is opening instead of drawing to a close. Several new plays have just opened, and consequently the dramatic writers must earn their salaries. Henry Miller's return to the "metropolitan," as Francis Wilson would say, is a supposition. In "Man Proposes" he has a comedy that will surely succeed. The Century Players have finally produced "Much Ado About Nothing" at the Princess, and at the Garrick theater Katherine Kennedy, a newcomer in the stary way, is producing "The Ruling Power."

M. MILLER, TENOR, FRENCH GRAND OPERA COMPANY.

Henry Miller's new play at the Hudson theater was written by Ernest Dean, an Englishman. On the whole it is not a satisfactory vehicle for Mr. Miller and, although bright in spots, drops to a low level of interest in the main.

The story of "Man Proposes" is that of an Irish lord who undertakes to bring up a harebrained younger brother and keep him out of scrapes. He is self sacrificing and even offers to give up the woman he loves. Some gossip women of a small English village are in keeping the talk going, but the lord wins the girl at the end of the fourth act.

H. Hazard Short makes the best of his opportunities as the brother, and Dorothy Hammond plays well the part of the girl in the case.

Mrs. Kennedy has made her professional debut, with the indications of a successful future. She has ability and for a comparative novice does remarkably well.

Her play at times goes beyond her, but in time she will develop the dramatic strength that comes only through experience.

"The Ruling Power" is the product of Elwyn A. Barron's pen, and its intent is to demonstrate a triumph of Christian Science over hypnotism. Mr. Barron was formerly a Chicago dramatic critic and has spent the last three or four years abroad. He is a Christian Scientist, as also is Mrs.

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil made almost as palatable as milk. It is easy and soothing to the weak stomach; it checks the tendencies of children toward thinness.

Scott's Emulsion gives strength to weak mothers because it creates healthy flesh and new blood.

jects him. Then by Christian Science or mental suggestion she releases her husband from the bonds.

Bumet Shackelford does splendid work in two character parts.

In "Ivan the Terrible" Richard Mansfield has one of the most imposing productions he has ever put on "the boards."

The tragedy is in five acts and is played in seven scenes. The cast is long, and the total number of people appearing is considerably over a hundred. Pictorially it reflects the barbaric prodigality of medieval Russia reified by a characteristic national taste.

The scenes and the costumes are all modeled on plates loaned Mr. Mansfield by the directors of the Imperial theater in St. Petersburg.

The translation was made by Mme. Sophie de Meissner, an American woman of attainments, who left her home in Washington many years ago to follow abroad her young husband, Vladimir de Meissner, then secretary of legation. Accompanying him to higher posts of diplomatic honor, Mme. de Meissner spent many years in the European capitals. She is now in America and was present at Mr. Mansfield's first appearance in "Ivan the Terrible."

Little Edith Tallafiero, now with "The Girl With the Green Eyes," promises to become a star before she even enters her teens.

Miss Tallafiero is ten years old and plays the part of the slinky little sister of the jealous heroine of this story. She is a sister of Mabel Tallafiero, who is playing Lovey Mary in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

A company of twenty sorrowful American vaudeville performers has returned to New York after an engagement of ten days in Havana. The manager of the venture, James Lederer, employs the vernacular concerning it to the following effect: "We were stung, and we were stung all over. There is no doubt about it. Cuba is the very worst place for an actor to go if he wants to make good. They did not want us at all. Not one little welcome did they give us. Why, it was so frosty in that theater that we needed our overcoats all the time."

The gallery is supposed to be the main source of bolsteredness in the theater, but colleagues really deserve this questionable distinction. Many an actor's heart has been set aching by the pranks of the callous schoolastics.

Richard Mansfield once had an experience in England with a boxful of Oxford students. Once bitten, twice scared, so when he played later in Cambridge Mansfield anticipated exactly what happened. The opera was "The Mikado," and Mansfield was playing Ko-Ko. There were students in every part of the house. Ko-Ko's entrance was greeted by hurrahs from the boys and the thrusting of half a dozen roosters on the stage. Instantly there was bedlam. Ko-Ko, however, stood his ground. In a couple of minutes the students had shouted themselves hoarse or tired, or both.

When quiet prevailed Mansfield, in his own robes as Ko-Ko, entered and began his song as the super he had sent on to take the reception grinned at the success of his ruse and ambled awkwardly off.

Concerning Basket Ball.

Basket ball as a recreative game is unique in its origin for two reasons—firstly, it is our one, positively sure, home American production; secondly, the name, date and place of its authorship are exactly known. Of no other game in all the category can this be said. The birth of the bulk of them is buried in an obscurity which reaches beyond the uniform covered, baked clay tablets of Babylon and the hieroglyphics of the remotest Egyptian records.

The Old English Coffee House.

In 1837, we are told, the first coffee house had been prosecuted as a nuisance. In 1708 there were 3,000 coffee houses, and each coffee house had its habitual circle. There were coffee houses frequented by merchants and stockjobbers carrying on the game which suggested the new nicknames bulls and bears, and coffee houses where the talk was Whig and Tory, of the last election and change of ministry, and literary resorts such as the Grecian, where, as we are told, a fatal duel was provoked by a dispute over a Greek accent, in which, let us hope, it was the worst scholar who was killed, and Willis, where Pope as a boy went to look reverently at Dryden, and Butters, where at a later period Addison met his little senate. Addison, according to Pope, spent five or six hours a day lounging at Butters', while Pope found the practice and the consequent consumption of wine too much for his health. Shackeray notices how the club and coffee house "boosted and enlarged the lives and enlarged the waistcoats of the men of those days."—"English Literature and Society in the Eighteenth Century."

The word California was first used by a Spanish writer more than four hundred years ago to describe an imaginary land which, he claimed, was "just this side of Paradise."

Little did he know how nearly right he was, for of all the spots the sun's rays shine upon, California most nearly approaches one's idea of an earthly Paradise.

Henry Miller's New Play, "Man Proposes," The Century Players In "Much Ado About Nothing" • Katherine Kennedy's Debut.

(From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.)

Judging by the activity among New York theatrical managers, one would readily imagine that the season is opening instead of drawing to a close. Several new plays have just opened, and consequently the dramatic writers must earn their salaries. Henry Miller's return to the "metropolis" as Francis Wilson would say, is auspicious. In "Man Proposes" he has a comedy that will surely succeed. The Century Players have finally produced "Much Ado About Nothing" at the Princess, and at the Garrick theater Katherine Kennedy, a newcomer in the starry way, is producing "The Ruling Power."

Henry Miller's new play at the Hudson theater was written by Ernest Denny, an Englishman. On the whole it is not a satisfactory vehicle for Mr. Miller and, although bright in spots, drops to a low level of interest in the main.

The story of "Man Proposes" is that of an Irish lord who undertakes to bring up a harebrained younger brother and keep him out of scrapes. LIFE PLANT
Would Completely Cure You.
Cured, After Suffering 16 Years With Rheumatism and Skin Disease. Mr. Wm. Cannon, of Minerva, Ohio, writes:

Minerva, Ohio, Dec. 23, 1903.
Being an invalid for sixteen years with Rheumatism and Skin Diseases, and tried almost all known remedies with no permanent results, I was advised to try LIFE PLANT; was so bad could not walk at all, not even with crutches or canes. From Nov. 1902, was compelled to sit in chair, only while in bed; commenced taking LIFE PLANT on Feb. 1st, 1903, on March 15th could walk all through the house with my crutches, six weeks after starting on LIFE PLANT. Two months after taking same, when weather is fine, walk out through garden. Bowels were very irregular less than two months, became very regular and have continued so ever since. At night after getting ready for bed since April 1st, walk to my bed without any assistance at all; so much for LIFE PLANT.

This can be proven up by my neighbors and friends.

Yours respectfully,

WM. CANNON.

LIFE PLANT is absolutely the only permanent and safe home cure for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Trouble and all Blood Diseases. It kills the germ of disease. Uric acid poison causes Rheumatism, LIFE PLANT drives it out and cures the disease; it soothes inflammation—mends the delicate tissues—restores energy, vim and vigor and makes the body strong. We guarantee that LIFE PLANT will absolutely cure you. What more should you ask? Costs nothing if it fails. LIFE PLANT is made of herbs—contains no drugs—and is a safe remedy even for a child. It cures by purifying the blood and if the blood is pure you can have no disease. Physicians prescribe LIFE PLANT; some use it in their families. Hospitals use it. If you are in need of a tonic, LIFE PLANT is just the one you should take, ask for LIFE PLANT and be sure you get it. Substitutes are very often dangerous. Write for booklet to

WORKING GIRLS

A Cordial Invitation to Every Sick and Ailing Working Girl.

It is to these girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand, and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. Her long record of success in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill she quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters are held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing her until your health is wrecked.

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female ills, especially when obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night. Day in and day out, month in and month out, the year through, the working girl toils; she is often the bread winner of the family, and must work that others may live; whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, whether it is warm or cold she must get to her place of employment and perform the duties exacted from her.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach; in consequence of frequent wetting of the feet monthly periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden and it is hard work to drag about. All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism, and if taken in time can be easily and permanently cured.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Grateful Words from Working Girls Who Have Been Helped.

"I wish to thank you for the wonderful cure you have discovered for suffering girls. I am a working girl and do not believe there is a girl of my age in the country who has suffered more than I have with female disorders.

"Although ever so many physicians with their various remedies were tried, nothing seemed to relieve me of the terrible pains, and it seemed as though there was no help for me, until I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"It worked like magic, for I had scarcely finished the second bottle when a great change was noticed in my whole general health, and in the three months time I felt like a new person."

—Miss M. E. PAULSON, 314 Willow Ave., Hoboken, N.J.

"Seeing so many women and girls being helped by your medicine I thought I would try it. I was very irregular in regard to menstruation, and had had no menses for four months.

"I obtained a bottle of your medicine just to see if I could cure myself without going to a doctor. One bottle gave me great relief, and now I am a different girl altogether.

"I will never be without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I know I would not be working to-day if I had not used your medicine."

CHAPTER XVI.

THE white walled, high ceilinged anteroom was barely furnished with paduassy chairs and a small side legged table. A high desk used by the colony's chief justice of the supreme court was at one end, with doors on either side. The other end of the room opened in narrow arches between pillars into the wide paved hall of the statehouse. Across these pillars was stretched a heavy cloth curtain, through whose folds sounds from the corridor reached dull and muffled.

Beyond these curtains on the opposite side of the hall was a great double door, and through the heavy oak came voices in debate and an occasional high note like the metallic rap of a gavel. But in the anteroom this became only a distant hum like that of settling bees. Armand, clad as for a court levee, stood one side erect and smiling before a trio of sober coated figures in duffle gray. His long, brown, rippling hair, the rare lace at his throat, the jade hilt of his dress sword, made him as distinct as some brilliant hued insect among gray moths. Beside him, uniformed, his mustachios aggressive as ever, short, wiry and alert, stood Pilgrimage.

The sober coated gentlemen, the delegates appointed to meet the secret messenger to the congress, had made their bows to the great man, all but Dickinson, their leader, openly radiant with the presumed bearing of his mission. M. Pilgrimage's proposals for ammunition purchases had recently been considered in committee, and the announcement of the envoy's arrival, coming from him, a known agent of France, had carried a weight added to by the appearance of the man before them. He had arrived a little late, a deliberateness that accorded well with the sobriety of his errand.

Now they but waited a pause in the debate to throw wide the doors that opened to the floor.

On the other side of those doors rages what is to be the last agitated hour of the fight. The document that is to be the birth certificate of a nation lies upon the table. Since early morning the discussion has been bitter.

The insect hum ceased suddenly.

hand clapping followed it in a far, velvet tumult.

"'Tis the Declaration!" exclaimed Pilgrimage. "The Declaration! 'Tis before them for signatures. They will decide in an hour. And you listen to this smug politron!"

The sweat broke upon Dickinson's forehead. Through all these months, by voice and pen, he had striven to incite the colonies to mutiny. Yet he had recoiled from Jefferson's bold resolution to sever from the crown. Resistance he had preached, not secession. And yet—and yet—

He turned to Armand. "The contents of your message," he said—"so much depends, I!"

"Sir!" Armand stopped him sharply. "What I bear is for the congress!"

"In God's name, then, who and what are you?"

"A messenger of the French King!"

Silence fell. Through it Joseph Galloway's untentious voice spread softly. "Gentlemen, I have a conclusive witness. One moment!"

He passed through the side door and an instant later entered, leading Anne. All eyes were turned upon them.

"'Tis Mistress Tilghton!" One of the committee, who had hitherto kept silence, was speaking. "A lady of Virginia, gentlemen, whom I do know loyal and worthy of all credence."

She did not dare to look about her. She stood, white, piteous. The quiet was unbearable.

The only voice broke it. "Look upon this man. Is he or is he not Louis Armand, lately seized in Virginia for representing himself a French nobleman?"

She turned her eyes an instant to him and saw his face deadly pale, his eyes terrible, staring at her.

"He is," she answered in a scarce audible tone.

"You received this paper from the hands of an officer in the British service? And recognize the signature as that of this man?"

"Yes," the questions were pitiless. Her limbs were falling, and she caught at the jamb of the door.

If she only dared look at him! Would they never let her go? The hypocrisy in those rounded, smooth syllables! Were they framing thanks? "For her loyalty," her courage, "at a moment when a matter of great import trembled in the balance!"

"Enough!" The sharp, strained tone of Dickinson was a relief. "The lady is fatigued."

Then the cooler air of the outer hall smote her face, and the falling curtain shut away from her that dreadful room, the torturing voice, the duffle-gray men and among them all that silent, accusing face, those eyes suddenly sunken, round with pain—Armand, whom she loved and had betrayed!

As the door closed behind her Armand dropped into a chair and buried his face in his hands.

"And now, gentlemen," finished Galloway, turning again into the room, "will you let this unspeakable villain pass those doors now?"

"Sir," protested Pilgrimage, appealing to Dickinson—"sir, gentlemen, a monstrous error is being made. A coil of circumstance has been cunningly woven, to explain which there is no time; nor, mayhap now, would you credit it. But as an officer of the French army, as a cavalier, as a French gentleman, I lay my oath upon the integrity of this mission and of this man."

But he knew as he spoke that what he said was futile.

Joseph Galloway had crossed the room behind Armand's chair and now, with a quick movement, reaching from behind, thrust his hand into the young man's breast and drew forth the forged parchment.

"Document number two," he said, tossing it upon the table. Armand had sprung to his feet, his head thrown high, a tiger gleam in his eyes.

"Canaille!" cried Pilgrimage. Dickinson's eye overran the writing.

"Send for the guards!" he said in a choked voice. "A file to seize him!" And Joseph Galloway went out in haste.

At the word a fury of passion seemed to capture Armand. Those near him fell back. His dress sword flashed out and drew a burnished ring about him.

"Stand back!" he hurled between his teeth. "You shall not stop me! Back, I say! Messenger I am, and my message I will deliver!"

"Madman! Will he cut his way in?" cried Dickinson.

Armand, dragging the curtain from its hooks, had gained the hall. He sprang at the great doors and struck them frenziedly with his sword. But with the first blow the light steel rattled to the floor broken half way to the left.

When Anne had issued from the anteroom a few moments before, she had emerged into the main corridor. She was dizzy, sick, and the last words of her questioner were in her ears. She found herself saying them over dully. "A matter of great import." "Trembling in the balance."

An old doorkeeper in a blue coat with faded lace sat near by on a wooden chair, but the day was warm, and he was dozing. His mouth was open, and he had not stirred when she came out.

She could hear the muffled voices clashing upon one another, coming from the main room where the delegates sat. The door at one end of the corridor opening on the green was ajar, and she was vaguely aware, as a background, of the murmurous, multi-colored noises that hang above an orderly assemblage of many people.

And, standing leaning against the wall, a swift knowledge came to her. The waiting crowd outside! Her guide's haste as he hurried her through the streets from the Red Lion tavern. A matter "of great import." The Declaration!

They were considering it, hesitating. Armand's message might have decided, and she had betrayed him—stay! She had the packet. It was there in her cloak. She must find Dr. Franklin. Ah, he must be in there at that moment! She had sworn to give it into his very hands. He must read it at once—at once. With the thought her eager fingers dragged it out.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

WORKING GIRLS

A Cordial Invitation to Every Sick and Ailing Working Girl.

It is to these girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand, and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. Her long record of success in treating women's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill she quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters are held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing her until your health is wrecked.

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female ills, especially when obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night. Day in and day out, month in and month out, the working girl toils; she is often the bread winner of the family, and must work that others may live; whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, whether it is warm or cold she must get to her place of employment and perform the duties exacted from her.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach; in consequence of frequent wetting of the feet monthly periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden and it is hard work to drag about. All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism, and if taken in time can be easily and permanently cured.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Grateful Words from Working Girls Who Have Been Helped.

"I wish to thank you for the wonderful cure you have discovered for suffering girls. I am a working girl and do not believe there is a girl of my age in the country who has suffered more than I have with female disorders."

"Although ever so many physicians with their various remedies were tried, nothing seemed to relieve me of the terrible pains, and it seemed as though there was no help for me, until I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"It worked like magic, for I had scarcely finished the second bottle when a great change was noticed in my whole general health, and in the three months time I felt like a new person."—Miss M. E. Paulson, 914 Willow Ave., Hoboken, N.J.

"Seeing so many women and girls being helped by your medicine I thought I would try it. I was very irregular in regard to menstruation, and had had no menses for four months."

"I obtained a bottle of your medicine just to see if I could cure myself without going to a doctor. One bottle gave me great relief, and now I am a different girl altogether."

"I will never be without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I know I would not be working to-day if I had not used your medicine."—Miss LAURA KISS, Standard Tea & Grocery Co., 786 Mass. Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE white walled, high celled anteroom was barely furnished with paduassy chairs and a small slim legged table. A high desk used sometimes by the colony's chief justice of the supreme court was at one end, with doors on either side. The other end of the room opened in narrow arches between pillars into the wide paved hall of the statehouse. Across these pillars was stretched a heavy cloth curtain, through whose folds sounds from the corridor reached dull and muffled.

Beyond these curtains on the opposite side of the hall was a great double door, and through the heavy oak came voices in debate and an occasional high note like the metallic rap of a gavel. But in the anteroom this became only a distant hum like that of settling bees. Armand, clad as for a court levee, stood one side erect and smiling before a trio of sober coated figures in duffle gray. His long, brown, rippling hair, the rare lace at his throat, the jade hilt of his dress sword, made him as distinct as some brilliant hued insect among gray moths. Beside him, uniformed, his mustachios aggressive as ever, short, wiry and alert, stood Pilgrimage.

The sober coated gentlemen, the delegates appointed to meet the secret messenger to the congress, had made their bows to the great man, all but Dickinson, their leader, openly radiant with the presumed bearing of his mission. M. Pilgrimage's proposals for ammunition purchases had recently been considered in committee, and the announcement of the envoy's arrival, coming from him, a known agent of France, had carried a weight added to by the appearance of the man before them. He had arrived a little late, a deliberateness that accorded well with the sobriety of his errand.

Now they but waited a pause in the debate to throw wide the doors that opened to the floor.

On the other side of those doors rages what is to be the last agitated hour of the fight. The document that is to be the birth certificate of a nation lies upon the table. Since early morning the discussion has been bitter.

The insect hum ceased suddenly.

There was a forward movement of the group in the anteroom toward the curtains.

"Stop!" echoed an intense voice behind them. "Stop!" Joseph Galloway stepped into the room from one of the side entrances and closed the door. "Praise the Most High," he ejaculated, "that I am come in time! Gentlemen, as you would save the congress from a most shameful scandal, let not that man pass from this room!"

There was a murmur of angry amazement from the group. Armand's hand dropped to his side. His face had whitened, and Pilgrimage's mustachios worked alarmingly.

"Sir," interposed Dickinson sternly, "we receive here a legate of France!"

"You receive an impostor, a villain and a spy!"

Pilgrimage's hand went to his sword, but Dickinson stepped before him, while the others stood stock still, blankness in their bearing.

"An insult!" cried the former. "And to the very face of monseigneur! Gentlemen, you have cause enough to know the politics of this meddler who has forced his way into this presence."

"I am an honest man," retorted Galloway. "My errand here should demonstrate that. And what I say I prove." "I know not whether we should listen, sir," said Dickinson, his brows together. "Heaven forbid that we should affront such a guest. Yet the words you have uttered demand, for his excellency's satisfaction at least, an explanation. In his name, then, speak, but quickly and begone." Dickinson was a diplomat.

"I shall be brief," returned Galloway. "This man, whom you believe a French nobleman, is Louis Armand, an adventurer lately arrested in Virginia, now in the secret service of the British. The message he bears is a forgery conveying the offer of aid only on impossible conditions calculated to discourage hope and quench the fervor for independence."

A low exclamation that was very like an abjuration burst from Dickinson's lips, and his eyes flashed first on the speaker and then upon Armand.

The color was come back to the young Frenchman's face.

"In my own country, gentlemen," he laughed, "we have asiles for such poor miscreants. However—my reputation, how dear it is to me! You will proceed, I beg."

It was admirably done. A quaver of relief spread abroad.

"The document in the case," said Galloway and handed Dickinson the writing executed by Lord Chetwynde at the Halifax prison; "an agreement duly signed accepting this traitorous mission."

Having delivered it over, he rubbed his hands together softly. "An arrant confection, to be sure!" railed Pilgrimage. "What could be easier? A signature? Of course, of course. But his—sounds! Such effrontery passes belief. 'An adventurer arrested in Virginia,' forsooth? Wert ever in Virginia, you Tory?"

"No," answered Galloway coolly. "A heavy reverberating voice, passion thrilled, boomed through the door beyond the curtains, and the sound of hand clapping followed it in a far, velvet tumult.

"'Tis the Declaration!" exclaimed Pilgrimage. "The Declaration! 'Tis before them for signatures. They will decide in an hour. And you listen to this smug politician!"

The sweat broke upon Dickinson's forehead. Through all these months, by voice and pen, he had striven to incite the colonies to mutiny. Yet he had recoiled from Jefferson's bold resolution to sever from the crown. Resistance he had preached, not secession. And yet—and yet—

He turned to Armand. "The contents of your message," he said—"so much depends. If—"

"Sir!" Armand stopped him sharply. "What I bear is for the congress!" "In God's name, then, who and what are you?"

"A messenger of the French King!" Silence fell. Through it Joseph Galloway's unctuous voice spread softly.

"Gentlemen, I have a conclusive witness. One moment!"

He passed through the side door and an instant later entered, leading Anne. All eyes were turned upon them.

"'Tis Mistress Thillotson!" One of the committee, who had hitherto kept silence, was speaking. "A lady of Virginia, gentlemen, whom I do know loyal and worthy of all credence."

She did not dare to look about her. She stood, white, piteous. The quiet was unbearable.

The oily voice broke it. "Look upon this man. Is he or is he not Louis Armand, lately seized in Virginia for representing himself a French nobleman?"

She turned her eyes an instant to him and saw his face deadly pale, his eyes terrible, staring at her.

"He is," she answered in a scarce audible tone.

"You received this paper from the hands of an officer in the British service? And recognize the signature as that of this man?"

"Yes." The questions were pitiless. Her limbs were failing her, and she caught at the jamb of the door.

If she only dared look at him! Would they never let her go? The hypocrisy in those rounded, smooth syllables! Were they framing thanks? "For her loyalty," "her courage," "at a moment when a matter of great import trembled in the balance!"

"Enough!" The sharp, strained tone of Dickinson was a relief. "The lady is fatigued."

Then the cooler air of the outer hall smote her face, and the falling curtain shut away from her that dreadful room, the torturing voice, the duffe-gray men and among them all that silent, accusing face, those eyes suddenly sunken, round with pain—Armand, whom she loved and had betrayed!

As the door closed behind her Armand dropped into a chair and buried his face in his hands.

"And now, gentlemen," finished Galloway, turning again into the room, "will you let this unspeakable villain pass those doors now?"

"Sir," protested Pilgrimage, appealing to Dickinson—"sir, gentlemen, a monstrous error is being made. A coil of circumstance has been cunningly woven, to explain which there is no time; nor, mayhap now, would you credit it. But as an officer of the French army, as a cavalier, as a French gentleman, I lay my oath upon the integrity of this mission and of this man."

But he knew as he spoke that what he said was futile.

Joseph Galloway had crossed the room behind Armand's chair and now, with a quick movement, reaching from behind, thrust his hand into the young man's breast and drew forth the forged parchment.

"Document number two," he said, tossing it upon the table. Armand had sprung to his feet, his head thrown high, a tiger gleam in his eyes.

"Canaille!" cried Pilgrimage. "Send for the guards!" he said in a choked voice. "A file to seize him!" And Joseph Galloway went out in haste.

At the word a fury of passion seemed to capture Armand. Those near him felt back. His dress sword flashed out and drew a burnished ring about him.

"Stand back!" he hurled between his teeth. "You shall not stop me! Back, I say! Messenger I am, and my message I will deliver!"

"Madman! Will he cut his way in?" cried Dickinson.

Armand, dragging the curtain from its hooks, had gained the hall. He sprang at the great doors and struck them frenziedly with his sword. But with the first blow the light steel rattled to the floor broken half way to the hilt.

When Anne had issued from the anteroom a few moments before, she had emerged into the main corridor. She was dizzy, sick, and the last words of her questioner were in her ears. She found herself saying them over duly. "A matter of great import." "Trembling in the balance."

An old doorkeeper in a blue coat with faded lace sat near by on a wooden chair, but the day was warm, and he was dozing. His mouth was open, and he had not stirred when she came out.

She could hear the muffled voices clashing upon one another, coming from the main room where the delegates sat. The door at one end of the corridor opening on the green was ajar, and she was vaguely aware, as a background, of the murmurous, multi-voiced noises that hang above an orderly assemblage of many people.

And, standing leaning against the wall, a swift knowledge came to her. The waiting crowd outside her guide's haste as he hurried her through the streets from the Red Lion tavern. A matter "of great import." The Declaration!

They were considering it, hesitating. Armand's message might have decided, and she had betrayed him—stay! She had the packet. It was there in her cloak. She must find Dr. Franklin. Ah, he must be in there at that moment! She had sworn to give it into his very hands. He must read it at once—at once. With the thought her eager fingers dragged it out.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system.

In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

SIMPLE WAY TO GAIN WEIGHT

"Mi-o-na, the Flesh Forming Food, Gives Remarkable Results," Says Druggist Reed.

Mi-o-na makes thin people fat. It gives a perfect digestion and cures all stomach troubles.

The scrawny, emaciated person always has more or less trouble from indigestion. Mi-o-na will overcome all the ills afflicting the poor, weak, thin dyspeptics. It makes them plump and gives health and strength. It strengthens the digestive organs and restores health so that the daily food is readily assimilated and makes solid bone and firm muscle, rich blood and healthy flesh.

In East Liverpool there are many people who have proven in their own case the remarkable flesh forming qualities of Mi-o-na. It can be used by the most delicate. It contains no alcohol and is not a cod liver oil preparation. It comes in small tablets, costing 50c a box, and if you take one tablet before eating, you can enjoy a hearty meal and feel that health and good flesh will quickly and surely return.

Will Reed will give a written guarantee with every box of Mi-o-na he sells to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You certainly can afford to commence using Mi-o-na with the understanding that it costs nothing unless you are cured.

Rexall "93" HAIR TONIC

In these days when youth is the moving factor—when man has made his mark at thirty-five and is dubbed a "has been" at forty; when business houses pension the man we used to call "middle aged" rather than allow his lagging influence to intrude upon the modern commercial rush—a bald head is a serious handicap.

In the social world it is equally bad for a man, while for a woman—it is fatal.

Few people can afford a bald head. Even those who can—those who are fixed socially, financially and matrimonially—have no wish to do so. But afford it or not, thousands of us are bald, either partially or wholly.

What caused baldness—whether an inherited tendency; whether through undue mental effort, sickness, dandruff or other scalp disease—makes no difference. What we want is HAIR.

Millions of dollars have been spent in vain efforts to grow hair on bald heads. Other millions have been spent in an effort to restore faded hair to its natural shade, and still others to banish dandruff. And still hair refused to grow; lost tints of brown, blonde and auburn failed to return; dandruff declined to disappear.

All this, however, is of the past. Failures have given place to success. A real hair restorative has at last been found. REXALL 93 HAIR TONIC is a positive cure for all hair and scalp troubles. It is not sticky or gummy, will not thicken on hair, does not become rancid, has no disagreeable odor. It is clean, agreeable and pleasant to use.

THE CAUSE OF BALDNESS

The latest scientific discoveries prove that all hair and scalp troubles—baldness, falling hair, dandruff, itching scalp—are caused by microbes which feed on the fatty matter at the roots of the hair until, through starvation, the hair dies and falls out.

Gray and faded hair are due to the same cause. The microbes interrupt the action of the pigment glands. Then the hair loses its color.

Rexall 93 Hair Tonic kills the microbes, supplies food for the starving hair, cleanses the scalp and strengthens the follicles.

It restores hair to its original color by making it healthy and by stimulating the flow of natural coloring pigment. It is not a dye.

93 HAIR TONIC removes dandruff by removing the cause—the destructive microbes. It makes hair light, clean, manageable.

Remember that dandruff is proof positive that microbes are at work on the roots of your hair. Then is the time to buy a bottle of REXALL 93 HAIR TONIC and begin treatment. Don't wait until you are bald.

"My hair was getting very thin. Every morning I would comb out great handfuls of it. Nothing that I tried stopped its falling out or helped it until, by the advice of a friend, I tried Rexall 93 Hair Tonic. From the very beginning the tonic was beneficial. Not only has it stopped my hair from falling, but it has produced an entirely new growth. My hair is now soft and glossy, where before it was harsh, brittle and dull. I shall recommend Rexall Hair Tonic to all my friends. MILDRED SEELEY, 148 East 27th Street, New York City."

In buying REXALL 93 HAIR TONIC you take no chances whatever. If after a trial you are not more than satisfied, we will promptly and cheerfully refund your money.

Bottle is four times this size.

THE STORY OF "93"

When the formula for Rexall Hair Tonic was secured from the most eminent hair specialist in the land, we realized that we had something far out of the ordinary. We had heard of its wonderful work, but the Rexall plan is to test every remedy thoroughly before offering it to the public. In this case we determined that for a name we would give this remedy a number representing the test cases in which it proved successful.

We wrote to one hundred druggists in as many cities asking each to send us the name of one of his customers who had lost his hair or who suffered with dandruff or other scalp disease. Then we sent each of these one hundred people three bottles of our new remedy with the request that he give it a trial and report the result.

Of the entire number, five did not answer at all. Two wrote adverse reports, saying our restorative had not made hair grow on their heads, though it later developed that these men had been bald for so many years that the follicles in their scalps had become closed. But the other ninety-three, as one man, spoke of our remedy in the most enthusiastic manner, pronouncing it the greatest discovery of the age and telling in detail of the splendid effects in each individual case.

This is where we got the name 93 Hair Tonic. Could any other name be so significant of merit? Any test have been more fair? Any results more encouraging?

Sold only at our store. Large Bottle, 50c. Mail orders filled.

SIMPLE WAY TO GAIN WEIGHT

"Mi-o-na, the Flesh Forming Food, Gives Remarkable Results," Says Druggist Reed.

Mi-o-na makes thin people fat. It gives a perfect digestion and cures all stomach troubles.

The scrawny, emaciated person always has more or less trouble from indigestion. Mi-o-na will overcome all the ills afflicting the poor, weak, thin dyspeptics. It makes them plump and gives health and strength. It strengthens the digestive organs and restores health so that the daily food is readily assimilated and makes solid bone and firm muscle, rich blood and healthy flesh.

In East Liverpool there are many people who have proven in their own case the remarkable flesh forming qualities of Mi-o-na. It can be used by the most delicate. It contains no alcohol and is not a cod liver oil preparation. It comes in small tablets, costing 50c a box, and if you take one tablet before eating, you can enjoy a hearty meal and feel that health and good flesh will quickly and surely return.

Will Reed will give a written guarantee with every box of Mi-o-na he sells to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You certainly can afford to commence using Mi-o-na with the understanding that it costs nothing unless you are cured.

Rexall "93" HAIR TONIC

In these days when youth is the moving factor—when man has made his mark at thirty-five and is dubbed a "has been" at forty; when business houses pension the man we used to call "middle aged" rather than allow his lagging influence to intrude upon the modern commercial rush—a bald head is a serious handicap.

In the social world it is equally bad for a man, while for a woman—it is fatal.

Few people can afford a bald head. Even those who can—those who are fixed socially, financially and matrimonially—have no wish to do so. But afford it or not, thousands of us are bald, either partially or wholly.

What caused baldness—whether an inherited tendency; whether through undue mental effort, sickness, dandruff or other scalp disease—makes no difference. What we want is HAIR.

Millions of dollars have been spent in vain efforts to grow hair on bald heads. Other millions have been spent in an effort to restore faded hair to its natural shade, and still others to banish dandruff. And still hair refused to grow; lost tints of brown, blonde and auburn failed to return; dandruff declined to disappear.

All this, however, is of the past. Failures have given place to success. A real hair restorative has at last been found. REXALL 93 HAIR TONIC is a positive cure for all hair and scalp troubles. It is not sticky or gummy, will not thicken on hair, does not become rancid, has no disagreeable odor. It is clean, agreeable and pleasant to use.

THE CAUSE OF BALDNESS

The latest scientific discoveries prove that all hair and scalp troubles—baldness, falling hair, dandruff, itching scalp—are caused by microbes which feed on the fatty matter at the roots of the hair until, through starvation, the hair dies and falls out.

Gray and faded hair are due to the same cause. The microbes interrupt the action of the pigment glands. Then the hair loses its color.

Rexall 93 Hair Tonic kills the microbes, supplies food for the starving hair, cleanses the scalp and strengthens the follicles.

It restores hair to its original color by making it healthy and by stimulating the flow of natural coloring pigment. It is not a dye.

93 HAIR TONIC removes dandruff by removing the cause—the destructive microbes. It makes hair light, clean, manageable.

Remember that dandruff is proof positive that microbes are at work on the roots of your hair. Then is the time to buy a bottle of REXALL 93 HAIR TONIC and begin treatment. Don't wait until you are bald.

"My hair was getting very thin. Every morning I would comb out great handfuls of it. Nothing that I tried until, by the advice of a friend, I tried Rexall 93 Hair Tonic. From the first application the tonic was beneficial. Not only has it stopped my hair from falling, but it has produced an entirely new growth. My hair is now soft and glossy, where before it was harsh, brittle and dull. I shall recommend Rexall Hair Tonic to all my friends."—MILDRED SEELEY, 749 East 27th Street, New York City.

In buying REXALL 93 HAIR TONIC you take no chances whatever. If after a trial you are not more than satisfied, we will promptly and cheerfully refund your money.

Bottle is four times this size.

THE STORY OF "93"

When the formula for Rexall Hair Tonic was secured from the most eminent hair specialist in the land, we realized that we had something far out of the ordinary. We had heard of its wonderful work, but the Rexall plan is to test every remedy thoroughly before offering it to the public. In this case we determined that for a name we would give this remedy a number representing the test cases in which it proved successful.

We wrote to one hundred druggists in as many cities asking each to send us the name of one of his customers who had lost his hair or who suffered with dandruff or other scalp disease. Then we sent each of these one hundred people three bottles of our new remedy with the request that he give it a trial and report the result.

Of the entire number, five did not answer at all. Two wrote adverse reports, saying our restorative had not made hair grow on their heads, though it later developed that these men had been bald for so many years that the follicles in their scalps had become closed. But the other ninety-three, as one man, spoke of our remedy in the most enthusiastic manner, pronouncing it the greatest discovery of the age and telling in detail of the splendid effects in each individual case.

This is where we got the name 93 Hair Tonic. Could any other name be so significant of merit? Any test have been more fair? Any results more encouraging?

Sold only at our store. Large Bottle, 50c. Mail orders filled.
